Among the bills of general interest introduced in the legislature during the past week is one to treble the annual tax on automobiles, and another to submit an amendment to the constitution, to a vote of the people, o change the basis of representation. The amendment provides that 30,000 population shall be required as the unit for a senator and 10,000 for the House of Delegates. Upon this basis Baltimore City would be entitled, according to its present population, to not less than 20 senators and 60 members of the House of Delegates. The snake in this proposition is a regular boa-constrictor and would give the city power to strangle and squeeze the political life out of the counties. The bill should not be passed. In relation to the auto tax bill it may be said that, if passed, it will make the machine the possession of people of means only. An individual with only a moderate income could not afford to own one, however important it might be to him to do so. A little runabout, of 22 horse power, would be taxed $100, about 20 per cent. of its value. These are, it is presumed, a couple of the reforms promised in the Democratic State platform last year. It is to be hoped there is wisdom enough in the General Assembly to kill them both.

RECEPTION TO NEWLY-WEDS

Mr. and Mrs. John H. Stansbury, of Greenmount, gave a very pretty reception in honor of their son, Weldon Elwood Stansbury and bride on Tuesday evening of last week. The wedding had been performed in Baltimore in the afternoon at the home of the bride, 751 George St., by the Rev. E. B. Bailey. The wedding couple arrived at Greenmount on the 3.47 P. M. train. About 6 o'clock the invited guests began to arrive and were pleasantly received by the Misses Nannie Murray and Bessie Hann. The wedding presents were numerous and beautiful. The dining room was very prettily decorated and the table loaded with all the delicacies of the season, the central figure being the beautiful bridal cake designed and baked by Mrs. Thos. Wheeler. A very pleasant evening was spent by all present and all joined in wishing the newly wedded couple a bright and happy future. The bride and groom left on Wednesday morning to spend a week in Washington, D. C. Fully a hundred guests were present.

MR. BECK SURPRISED

A surprise party was given at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Charles F. Beck on Monday evening, February 2, in honor of their son William. A very pleasant evening was spent by all present. At a late hour all were invited to the dining room to partake of many good things, after which the guests all wished Mr. Beck many more bright and happy birthdays and departed for their homes. Among those present were: Messrs. and Mesdames Charles Beck, William Beck, John McKinney, Frank J. Brandenburg, Mahlon Grimm, John Bushey, Erman Shoemaker, and Harry Bushey, Misses Mary Beck, Mattie Shoemaker, Margaret Dorsey, Annie Keefer, and Mary Houck and Messrs. Herman and Raymond Beck and Charles Houck.

LADIES' AID MEETS

Quite a number of the members of the Ladies' Aid Society of Providence M. P. Church met at the home of Mr. and Mrs. A. N. Zentz, on Thursday evening of last week. The meeting was opened with scripture reading and prayer. Dues collected were $8.20. When the meeting adjourned all were invited to the dining room where refreshments were served in abundance. Music on the piano and Victrola was much enjoyed by all. Among those present were: Messrs. and Mesdames John Brauning, A. N. Zentz, Robert Wheeler, Lester Patterson, and J. N. Barnes; Mesdames Clinton Shipley, David Leister, Emmett Prugh, and Lewis Miller; Misses Daisy Poole, Eurith Zentz, Carrie Buckingham, Myra and Mary Patterson, Mrs. Leister, Mr. Stephen Parrish and Mr. William Barnes.

REUNITED AFTER BEING SEPARATED 5 YEARS

The Union Bridge Pilot says that after having been separated 5 years Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Mumford were married at 10.30 last Sunday night by Rev. J. R. Pardew.

Until the time of separation Mr. and Mrs. Mumford apparently lived agreeably together with several children all of whom are now married, when suddenly the husband elected to live otherwise and accordingly made his home about Johnsville and two years ago, Mrs. Mumford secured a divorce. During these years they never met until a few days ago when the matter was talked over and the couple decided to live as formerly.

SMALLWOOD

One of the most brilliant affairs of the season was a party given by Mr. and Mrs. William Davis at the old homestead on February 3, 1914. In the early part of the evening guests began to arrive and continued until late and until those spacious rooms were filled. The walls echoed and re-echoed witht the laughter and fun of the young as they enjoyed themselves throughout the evening. Music, games and dancing were indulged in until twelve o'clock when all departed for their homes wishing their host and hostess good night and thanking them for their enjoyable evening. At eleven o'clock an abundance of refreshments, consisting of cakes of all kind, lemonade, fruits, candy and root beer were served. Mr. Harry Shipley and Mr. Harvey Davis furnished the music. Aamong those present were: Messrs. and Mesdames Wm. Davis, Columbus Shipley, Oscar Barnes, Geo. Miller, Lewis Barber, Charles A. Wagner, Joseph Niner, Thomas Paynter, Jno. ### THE RACE TRACK ISSUE

ALL this talk, about Senator Williams interfering with a local matter in introducing his Bill to abolish the Havre de Grace Race Track, is simply an effort to "muddy the waters," to confuse the issue. In the first place that affair is in no sense a local affair In the second place Senator Williams put it up to Senator Archer, of Harford, to introduce such a Bill, before doing so himself. In the third place, the people of Cecil county are as much affected by the Havre de Grace Race Track as are the people of Harford, and as a representative of Cecil people, Senator Williams was quite within the properties in introducing his Bill. Moreover, he was quite justified in introducing it without further waiting, four weeks of the Legislature's life being already gone. The time had come for something to be doing, to bring the subject to an issue. The Williams Bill did THAT—without a doubt. What happens when you pour "bilin' water" into a rat hole? Well, race track Bills and race track influences came scurrying to the surface all right, when word went out that a Bill was "in" to abolish the Race Track at Havre de Grace. The issue is raised and it will be hard to side step it. If one asks why the Williams Bill strikes at the Havre de Grace Track alone, instead of at the whole business in this State, we make answer that such a criticism is very natural by anyone not familiar with the whole situation. Mr. Williams chose to start the fight as he did, purely as a matter of tactics. Moreover, he was representing the great majority of his own Cecil constituents in setting out to kill that thing "over the river." To say "if the Havre de Grace Track must go, let the rest go too," sounds to us perfectly reasonable and we shall be glad to see the fight raised all along the line. But will it succeed. Nobody can say. Certainly the Race Track interests are not going to let anything get by them. Senator Hammond has introduced already in the Senate, and Speaker Trippe is about to introduce in the House, a Bill providing that a certain percentage of the receipts at the Race Tracks shall go to the State for the building of good roads. That, of course, is an open bid for votes and popular support. Realizing that the taxation for State Roads is becoming a great burden on our people, the Race Track interests plan to buy the people's support of their gambling game by this "road fund" provision. In other words, it is planned to make the State and its tax-payers joint partners with the Race Tracks in the gambling game and to build State Roads out of "blood money." Whose money is it that decorates the Race Track patrons with diamonds? That pays their bills for luxurious traveling and hotel accommodations. That enables them to rent houses at exorbitant figures and to generally subsidize any community into which they come? What money is it? Isn't it money for which many "suckers" have toiled hard and long? Isn't it money which often is taken by weak and tempted employes from their employers' funds, to the demoralization of business and the eternal ruin of the thief? Isn't it money which many a time should be used in a man's payment of his honest debts or in the needed comforts of his wife and children? Is any of it money that has been honestly earned by the people who rake it in or for which they furnish any honest or adequate return. Isn't it money which fills their pockets by pure gambling and which they hope to continue filling their pockets by buying up a community or a State with a small portion of their illgotten gains. Has Maryland come to this that she can be inveigled or bought into paying for her public improvements out of the gambler's till? Have we sunk so low that a moral and humanitarian question can be bought out of the judgment of our people's conscience? We do not want to think it.

We are not under the least delusion as to this fight. We recognize perfectly well the powerful political and business interests that are massed behind this great gambling game. It was hardly necessary for for the daily press to say "In this fight Senator Williams will be making a big mistake if he overlooks the strength of John J. Mahon." Senator Williams has NOT overlooked that strength. Any man, even though blind of one eye and seeing badly from the other, could yet perceive the grip which "Sonny" Mahon has on this Legislature and thereby on the State of Maryland. But in all the days of his public life Senator Williams has not been trained to bow before the forces of evil because they are BIG. There is something bigger—a long ways bigger—than the biggest political boss that ever lived. The biggest thing in all the earth is the Eternal Righteousness. Will you fight against the stars in their courses? Will you strive to stay the swing of the everlasting tides? What happens to your little hand-made dams, when Nature awakes and shakes herself and puts on her strength—and all her giant forces get into play? We are comfortably complacent. "Sonny" Mahon doesn't even irritate us. He is so certainly ephemeral. He, of course, may beat Senator Williams and all the Senator's efforts. But that doesn't count. He can't beat the Eternal Righteousness. The only thing for Mr. Williams, or any man, to do is to be sure that he is lined up with the Eternal (and not the infernal), with the Highest (and not the lowest), with the Moral Certitudes (and not the shifty quibblers.)

Whose world is this? If that question is too big, limit it: "Whose State is this." "Sonny" Mahon's? No, by the Eternal, NO! He's got a fine, large grip on it, just now, we must admit. But wait till the State wakes up. Wait till the people shake themselves and put on their strength, and get their giant powder into play. But when will the waiting end? When will the people arise and smite? It is not for us to "reckon times and seasons." They will do it, because they are the forces of the Eternal Righteousness, the way by which the Moral Certitudes come to consummation.

Believe that, or accept chaos.

Moonstone Enamelware

¶ The outside of this Enamelware is of a dark blue color with a pale blue blended center, which gives it a soft velvety appearance.

THIS WARE IS MADE OF EXTRA HEAVY SHEET STEEL WITH THREE COATS OF ENAMEL AND WHITE INSIDE COATING.

The majority of the people that buy Enamelware do not know that there is a vast difference in this ware. All Enamelware looks to be the same, but it is not.

Their are three kinds of Enamelware, namely: one coated, two coated and three coated. This means that the cheapest, which is the one coated is dipped only once, the medium grade which is the two coated is dipped twice and the best grade which is the three coated is dipped three times. Then again the cheapest grade is made of light sheet steel which is easily dented, the medium grade of medium weight sheet steel and the best grade of extra heavy sheet steel, which prolongs the life of the ware.

Now we sell the best grade and as we buy it in quantities it costs but little more than the cheap grades that you buy. The cheap grade will chip off easily and anyone knows that as soon as Enamelware chips off it is absolutely worthless and little better than rubbish.

Don't be persuaded into putting your good money into this one coated or two coated Ware. Buy Moonstone Enamelware the kind that you know will last you and save you money.

We have just received a large shipment of Moonstone, high grade, three coated, heavy sheet steel Enamelware. As we have bought this in a quantity it will enable us to give you a price on it that is little above the price of the cheap, one coated stuff. Come in and let us show you our large assortment.
