TRIBES OF GIPSIES MOVING FROM CITY

Chief Johnson and Chief Miller, of the tribes of gipsies that have been making their homes in houses near Caroline street and Eastern avenue, Baltimore, since the latter part of last fall, moved their caravans to a new abode Tuesday. It was a picturesque sight to see more than a score of wagons, loaded with men, women and children and household effects, as the procession moved out Eastern avenue about 10 o'clock Tuesday morning. The women and children, in their clothing of many colors, and their odd costumes, made a quaint picture. The party moved out the Eastern avenue road to Back River, to obtain tents and other paraphernalia which had been stored there. They expected to make their next camp in this city after leaving Baltimore county.

MANCHESTER

Although rumor was carrying a whisper for a week or more that there would be a change in the department store here that was rather a surprise yet it grew into a reality last week, when the proprietors, with several assistants, got busy stock taking and by the week's end Messrs. Geiselman and Frankforter retired from the business and Mr. George M. Hoffman and Company took possession of the same. Mr. Hoffman is one of our boys who started at the foot of the ladder as a strippingboy in a cigar factory which he followed up. When yet in his teens he became a cigar maker, his industry and economy built up a nice bank account. Ten years ago he bought an old house on South Main street which he tore down and built a nice up to date brick house with improved surroundings. After enjoying it for several years he sold it to Mr. Hoover and then rented the Wilson store room and opened a pool room in connection with an eating and ice cream saloon of which business he made a success, but in the height of that success he accepted a tempting offer and sold the business to his cousin, Mr. Howard Hoffman. Becoming interested in automobiles he was engaged in the carrying of passengers &c., and built up a paying laundry route. When the Hoffacker home on the corner of Foundry avenue and Main street was in the market he became the purchaser and tore down the large barn on the avenue and built a block of 4 houses on the same that adds much to the appearance of that section and much to his credit. He disposed of them at public sale and the home on Main street he sold to Mr. John C. Keck. After arranging for a position at Syracuse, N. Y., he sold his personal effects and he and Mrs. H. took their departure, but after some months they longed for their native town and came back and took employment in the cigar factory of C. M. Masenhimer. When this business opportunity presented itself George was on the job and by his business tact was able to arrange for the taking over of the business with a stock of 6000 or more dollars. And now the little stripper boy is on the corner of Main and York streets ready to do business and will be glad to have his friends to give him a good share of their patronage as he will always be ready to meet their wants with a well selected stock of goods. He and company have our best wishes for a grand success.

On Saturday last the directors of the Dug Hill Fire Insurance Company held their annual meeting in their office here which was well attended with president David J. Brown in the chair. During the morning session routine business was gone through with and matters of general interest discussed. At noon they adjourned and formed in line and marched to the Franklin House where mine host Staley had in readiness a fine dinner of oysters with their belongings which all enjoyed through the kindness of Mr. John G. Hoffman who cancelled the expense. The president called them to order in a second session and an election of directors followed resulting as follows: D. J. Brown, J. Rupp, Dr. J. F. Zeigler, H. L. Frizzell, J. W. Snyder, J. G. Hoffman, M. P. Myers, M. T. Leiser, H. T. Wentz, Whitfield Stansbury, E. H. Sharretts and Chas. Brilhart. The Board at once organized by electing D. J. Brown, president; J. Rupp, treasurer, and C. Brilhart, secretary. Mr. M. T. Leiser was appointed general agent with Messrs. H. T. Wentz, M. P. Myers, J. G. Hoffman, E. H. Sarretts, Harry N. Groft, H. L. Frizzell, W. T. Englar, Charles Brilhart sub agent, the latter will attend to the business of Mr. Whit Stansbury until he becomes able to attend to it.

The sale of Mr. Martin Sherman on the Dice farm south of town on Saturday was largely attended. There were a number of spirited bidders from whom good prices were realized. A 14-year-old mare brought $285, while the other horses were equally well sold. Prices for cows were in the 60's and 70's.

The executor's sale of the Theiret home and effects on Saturday was well attended and things sold well. The home in Germantown along the state road went to the bid of Mr. Jonas Utz for the sum of $1256.

The members of the Willing Workers Aid Society of the Reformed Church met at the parsonage on Monday evening and made clothing for the Hoffman Orphan home, meeting a request from the managers of the same.

Mrs. Dr. J. H. Sherman had the members of the Sewing Circle at a social at her home on Thursday evening, 19th inst., where an enjoyable evening was spent and fine refreshments enjoyed.

Rev. J. B. Lau will hold communion services in Emanuel Lutheran Church on Sunday, April 5th, instead of March 29th, as before announced.

Manchester Rebekah Lodge No. 18, I. O. O. F., celebrated the 9th anniversary of their organization on Tuesday evening last, having with them 75 or more friends who enjoyed a pleasant evening and who were entertained by the committee presenting the following program: Singing, Maryland; Prayer, Dr. Land; welcome address, Noble Grand, L. Kate Shower; piano solo, Mae Musselman; recitation, Gertrude Abkin; address, Rev. J. B. Lau; recitation, Master George Shower; piano solo, Treva Burgoon; recitation, Anna Cramrine; quartette, Mesdames Shower and Nagle, Messrs. Lau and Geiselman; recitation, Marguerite Burgoon; address, Dr. Land; singing. The company then enjoyed a social period until invited to the lower hall where 19 young ladies gave the Reveries of a Bachelor in pantomime under a colored light each answering the readings of Miss Ada Trump, after which refreshments of ice cream, cake and coffee were served to all.

Mr. and Mrs. Noah W. Sellers, of York, were guests of their sister, Miss Laura Burns, on Sunday.

Our legislature men spent Sunday at home with their families.

The stork left a fine baby girl at the home of Mr. William S. Hoffman on Monday.

The postmastership of our town is among the debatable subjects at this time in the quartette race for the same.
