My dear Doctor,

I was truly grateful for thy most kind letter received yesterday. Thyself & dear Mrs Morris have been so closely associated with all the past in your loving ministrations to our beloved Aunt & Uncle that you have always held in my heart that peculiarly near relation which belongs generally only to ties of blood. It has been a source of the most unfeigned satisfaction & pleasure to me to have been able in the smallest degree to minister to your comfort & during Mrs Morris' sickness I always felt
