Md. Caspar Morris incoming letters Biddle-C 1994

SIDE TWO

received before — and so, with some other things — it is often so when two women see things from a different stand point, each I believe intending to speak with entire truth.

Shall I say to Miss A resign, or shall I say "wait the course of events"? I am truly sorry to trouble you with all this — I am going this afternoon to Atlantic City, to gather up a little strength, hope to return Thurs. or Friday but will be obliged if you will write me a line in reply. I will send for it in the course of the morg

Very truly

C. C. Biddle
