0946

n.d. Caspar Morris incoming letters 0-3 194

SIDE TWO

the providential arrangement of your present position waiting by the bedside of expected death, as well as with you in the exporting comfort which he is so glad to give to those who simply rest in his Love.

This resting upon Jesus is one of the sweetest experiences of the heart. It is not making any effort to assure ourselves of his Love but taking for granted that love & then relaxing all effort of our own trust by resting upon Him just as we relax all physical exertion when we lie down to rest upon our bed

Jesus' love to us does not depend on our love to Him for if it did what miserable creatures we should be & how futile would be our hope & joy. But he has loved us with an everlasting love therefore with loving kindness has he drawn us.

Most earnestly my very dear Brother do I pray that the abounding comfort of the God of all comfort may be given to you through the divine Comforter the Holy Ghost for the sake of the Great Advocate & Redeemer Jesus Christ.

Ever loving

Your

Wm Dawson Stevens

Dr

Caspar Morris