IN MEMORIAM

Robertson—In sad but loving remembrance of our dear son Leonard, who departed this life one year ago today, September 25, 1913.

He is gone, but was so young and fair,
He slumbers sweet and knows no care;
His heart was true, his life was young,
Yet not our will, but God's be done.

By his mother and step father,

The War In Europe

Desperate Fighting For Ten Days Along the 100 Mile Battle Line in France.

No Marked Advantage on Either Side.

Except on the Right Wing, the Germans Stand Firm Against All Assaults.

Their Right Wing, While Pushed Back, Has Not Been Turned.

Both Sides Cliam Successes, But The Situation Is Unchanged From a Week Ago.

The Russians Are Advancing In Austria But No Pitched Battle Fought.

Claim To Have Advanced Also In Eastern Prussia.

Three 12,000-Ton British Cruisers Sunk By German Submarines.

The war in Europe is not dragging along, as there is constant desperate fighting on the hundred-mile battle line in France. But no marked change has taken place in the relative positions of the opposing armies during the past week. Attacks and counter-attacks, without material results except the slaughter of men, have been reported daily. But the Germans stand firm in the position to which they retired from before Paris and all attempts to dislodge them have thus far failed. At various points on the line they have taken the offensive, only to be repulsed in their attempts to drive back the Allies. The Germans having retired from Amiens the city was occupied by the French. Then an attempt to recover it was made by the Germans, who bombarded it with heavy guns and the noted Cathedral, one of the finest in Europe, it is said is ruined.

It must not be supposed that fighting is going on all along the line all the time. A series of battles is really taking place at various points, and particularly at the right wing of the Germans, commanded by General Kluck, and at the center of the Allies, which the Germans have repeatedly attempted to break. As the Sentinel predicted two weeks ago, the world has never seen more desprate encounters than are taking place at these points. It is a fight to the finish on boh sides.

The Russians are slowly but surely advancing into Austria and have taken some important cities. They are now reported as advancing toward Cracorw, an important ctrategic point. They claim also to be moving forward in Eastern Prussia. But no report from any source, from the operations of the armies in France or from the Russians, Germans and Austrians, should be accepted as reliable. All the powers involved are claiming important successes.

The English have received a humiliating blow to their Navy, three of their armored cruisers having been sunk in the North Sea by German submarines, which sneaked out and attacked them. The Germans say the destruction of these ships was performed by a single submarine; but the English claim that two of these boats were destroyed by their ships. The cruisers sunk were the Aboukir, Hogue and Cressy, 12000-ton ships, not of the most modern build, but still serviceable. The crew of one of the ships fired her guns at her destroyer as she was sinking, an act that recalls that of the crew of the Cumberland, sunk by the Merimac in Hampton Roads, during our Civil War.

Of the officers and men on the illfated cruisers only 1067 are known to have been saved, while 1133 went down with their ships and perished.

BEYER—BASLER

A pretty wedding took place Sunday afternoon, September 20, when Miss Mettie R. Basler and William H. Beyer, were united in holy matridony.

The wedding ceremony was performed at the home of the bride's father, Mr. John Basler, near Carrollton, at 4 o'clock, in the presence of the near relatives of both bride and groom. The ceremony was performed by the bride's pastor, Rev. W. F. Hersh. The ring ceremony of the Lutheran church was used.

The bride is a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Basler, near Carrollton. The groom is a son of Gottfried Beyer, Baltimore. The bride was dressed in a blue silk gown and carried a pretty bouquet of astors. The groom wore the usual conventional black. Both were unattended. Miss Beyer, sister of the groom, played the wedding march. The gifts of the newlyweds were many and costly. After the ceremony and the extending of best wishes and congratulations the happy couple, with their guests, repaired to the dining room where a wedding breakfast was served. The couple will be "at home" in Baltimore within the next few weeks. We wish them a long and happy wedded life.

Jeffries, of the M. E. Church, South, at 2 P. M. Mr. and Mrs. Hobbs returned to their home Sunday evening. Their many friends wish them much happiness and joy and a long wedded life.

His funeral took place at Trinity Lutheran Church, Deer Park Road, on Tuesday morning, his pastor, Rev. Wm. L. Seabrook, officiating, and interment was in the church cemetery. The pallbearers were his five sons and Mr. William Selpp. Messrs. H. Bankard & Son were funeral directors.

A. G. LEISTER

Miss Alice G. Leister, little daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James G. Leister, of Snydersburg, died Thursday night of last week at the home of her parents, aged 8 years. Besides her parents two little sisters survive her. Death was caused by lockjaw, she having run a rusty nail in one of her feet a week previous to her death.

The funeral service, conducted by Rev. W. F. Hersh, was held Sunday afternoon at St. John's (Leister's) Lutheran Church and the interment was in the adjoining cemetery.

Seven little girls acted as flower girls and four cousins of the deceased acted as pallbearers. Messrs. C. V. Tipton and Son, of Hampstead, were funeral directors.
