MANCHESTER

Our base ball team and enthusiasts had the New Windsor team here on Saturday and played a double header on the home grounds that was well attended. The home boys seemed at their best—really playing ball—and captured both games, the one 11 to 4 and the other 7 to 4; the manager says they treated the visitors O. K. and called off the games for the seasonn.

Fifty or more members of Pocahontas Tribe of Red Men attended the morning service in Trinity Reformed Church on Sunday morning last. Dr. Land gave them a cordial welcome and then very forcibly presented the fatherhood of God and the brotherhood of man basing his remarks upon the scripture in Isaiah 63-16 the first clause, "Doubtless Thou art our Father," to which the members and congregation gave close attention. The choir sang several fine selections and no doubt all felt it was good for us to have been there.

Mr. Charles M. Ridgely offered his home on corner of Foundry avenue and Main street at public sale on Saturday but it was withheld at a bid of $2600.

Mr. Jacob W. Warehime in company with several friends was leisurely passing the hours in social chat on Ascension Day 1899, on the summit of Dug Hill and while there a tortoise came passing by. Mr. W. picked it up and carved his initials with day and date on the lower floor of the testudo's little house and sent it on its way, perhaps little thinking of it in these years until last week while loading stone almost on the very same spot he picked up a tortoise and there to his astonishment was his initials and date of nearly 16 years ago. It certainly was a strange coincidence as it is generally supposed that land turtles (as they are generally called) are great travellers.

Mr. Charles Brilhart enjoyed a trip to Saltillo, Pa., and was a guest at the week end of Mr. Henry Weaver and family where Mrs. Brilhart and friend, Mrs. Brown, had been spending several weeks enjoying the hospitality of the home and the pleasures of the grand mountain scenery in its autumnal dress. Mr. and Mrs. B. arrived home on Tuesday morning.

Mr. and Mrs. George L. Maurath left on Friday in company with Mr. and Mrs. Rinedollar for Cincinnati where Mr. Rinedollar has accepted a position in the commercial department of the Woodworth high school. The parents expect to spend several weeks with Mrs. R., their daughter, in the new home.

Miss Mary Myers left on Friday to take up her studies in the Frederick Institute, it being her graduating year.

Mrs. Maurice Unger and her son Robert left on the 25th ult. for their new home in New York City in the Berkeley school, of which Mr. Unger is the head master.

The ladies and gentlemen who have been in practice for several weeks will give the drama, "Followed by Fate," in the I. O. O. F. Hall on Saturday evening, 3rd inst., for the benefit of the treasury of the Willing Workers' Aid Society.

Mrs. H. T. J. Lamotte gave a pleasant surprise to her father, Mr. George A. Crouse, upon his birthday this week by having a number of his gentlemen friends seated at the supper table when he came into the dining room to his meal. He soon became himself and with the friends enjoyed a royal feast that his daughter had in store. She was assisted in serving by Mrs. Howard Hawk and Miss Kate Belchner.
