Sore Throat or Mouth.

You must keep the throat and mouth clean and healthy. Any disease that attacks the canal through which must pass the food we eat, the beverages we drink and the very air we breathe is a serious matter. Why neglect Sore Throat or Sore Mouth when TONSILINE makes it so easy for you to get relief? TONSILINE is the remedy specially prepared for that purpose. TONSILINE does its full duty—you can depend upon it. Keep a bottle in the house—where you can get it quick when needed. 25c. and 50c. Hospital Size $1.00. All Druggists.

It is claimed a good looking woman can't be convicted of first degree murder. With women on the jury, perhaps a good looking woman couldn't be acquitted.

BLUE RIDGE COLLEGE

On last Sunday Mr. Guy Hartman was very much surprised but delighted to see his mother and father. Also Mr. and Mrs. Berry Fox and Mrs. Hutchison. They all made the trip from Waynesboro here in the large seven-passenger Studebaker car owned by Mr. Hartman.

An automobile party from Frederick consisting of Mr. and Mrs. Bopst, Miss Amy Bopst and Mr. and Mrs. Mayne were very welcome callers at the College on Sunday. They visited the Misses Bopst.

Mr. Rockford Nusbaum, who was a former student at Blue Ridge, called at his Alma Mater last Friday evening. He again renewed old society spirit by reciting "The Harvard and Yale Boat Race," at the program given by the Emersonian Literary Society. We were very much delighted to see him and hope he will come again.

The Temperance Rally which was held in the public hall at New Windsor was attended by several of the teachers and students of the college.

Prof. Flora, of the College, made a trip to Frederick on Sunday. While there he filled the appointment at the Church of the Bretharen.

Prof. Keller went to Louaconing, Pa., last Friday. There he delivered his lecture, "The Sesame of Getting On." The time passed very pleasantly for in the intervening time from Friday until Monday he visited one of his Albright classmates. He spent an enjoyable time and reports a fine and appreciative audience at the lecture.

On last Saturday night whispers of Hallow'een, of witches and "College Feeds" were to be heard in weird accents about the college. Although the usual Hallow'een party was not given the girls spent a jolly evening celebrating the festivities of the gay season. The attic of the girl's dormitory was tastefully decorated with pumpkin heads, autumn leaves and corn fodder. The time was spent in playing many games and then "when lights were out," several of the girls told ghost stories and recited several recitations. The two main features of the evening were the fortune teller who played her part well and lastly the long table spread with "eats" where we all played our parts exceedingly well.

Mr. Price Hilton, a preacher-banker, of Frederick, made a short business call at the college last Thursday. He conducted the chapel services for us and gave us many wholesome truths.

Pres. Bonsack made a short trip to Baltimore and Washington over Saturday and Sunday. He delivered a sermon at the latter place on Sunday.

FOURTH AMERICAN ROAD CONGRESS

An important conference by representatives of the American Bar Association, American Highway Association and the United States Office of Public Roads, will be held in New York on November 6 to take steps to aid uniform revision of road laws in the several states. Committees were appointed to take up this work at the Third American Road Congress held in Detroit in October, 1913, and they have in cooperation with the United States Office of Public Roads, completed a literal compilation of the road laws of all the states. The great mass of legislative enactment accumulated as a result of this labor exceeds three million words and reveals the most bewildering conflict, confusion and inefficiency. It is the purpose of the committee to recommend to the legislative session of the American Road Congress, which will be held in Atlanta, Georgia, during the week of November 9, that the legislature of each state be invited to avail itself of the great amount of material compiled by the committee and to appoint a special committee to work with this central committee in a suitable revision of state road laws.

The state highway commissioners from Washington, California, Utah and Colorado will discuss with state highway commissioners of southern states at the Road Congress, the important question of what to do with state convicts. Most of the states are now in agreement as to the desirability of using convicts on the roads but there is controversy as to how far the honor system, which has been tried out on a small scale in far western states, can be applied in the utilization of convict road building gangs. Other questions of importance to state road management will be taken up authoritatively at the Atlanta Congress, as the official heads of every state highway department in the United States except five, will be in attendance.

The final program of the Congress has been announced and covers every phase of road and street work from the standpoint of legislation, finance, economics and engineering.

People are already urged to start Christmas shopping, but it is not popular to do it comfortably.

POSTAL SAVINGS

The war in Europe is proving a big boon to postal savings in this country. From the very day hostilities opened across the seas postal-savings receipts began to increase by leaps and bounds and withdrawals fell off, a result quite contrary to the predictions of many well-informed persons who, in their imagination, saw lines of feverish depositors at post-office pay windows anxious to again return their savings to the boot-leg and body-belt depositories whence they came before intrusted to Uncle Sam. But the forecasters failed to reckon on the absolute confidence of the American citizen, regardless of the flag that first met his eyes, in the ability and purpose of the Government to carry out its obligations, not only among the nations of the earth, but with the humbiest citizen of our land.

Two important results have followed; thousands of people, largely of foreign birth, accustomed to send their savings abroad, are now patrons of our postal-savings system; and enormous sums of actual cash have been released for commercial uses among our own people at a time when the need for every available dollar is pressing.

The growth of postal-savings in the United States has been steady and healthy and the system has filled an important gap between the tin-can depository and the factory paymaster. On July 1, when affairs were running smoothly here and abroad and the transmission of money across the Atlantic was safe and expeditious, there was approximately $43,000,000 of postal savings standing to the credit of about 388,000 depositors. Since then over $10,000,000 of deposits have been added and the number of depositors has increased enormously. This unprecedented gain is the more striking when it is considered that the net gain in the last three months is larger than the gain for the entire fiscal year 1914. Scores of offices have done more postal-savings business since the war has been going on than was done by them during the previous existence of the service. The increases are confined to no special localities, but have been felt in every nook and corner of the country. New York City alone made a gain in September of more than a million, while Brooklyn showed a relatively big increase. Chicago reported a larger gain in the past three months than for the previous twelve months. More than 7,000 new accounts were opened during the period, bringing the number of depositors in that city up to over 21,000.

The unexpected increase in postal-savings business has not only added greatly to the general administrative duties of the system, but has brought up many new and interesting problems which have called for the careful personal consideration of Postmaster General Burleson and Governor Dockery, Third Assistant Postmaster General. But their task has been lightened by the promptness of depository banks in furnishing additional security to meet the abnormal deposits. A number of the very largest banks in the country, which have heretofore declined to qualify as depositors for postal-savings funds, are now among the eager applicants for them.

THE CHURCH SUPPERS

The return of autumn brings with it the church supper, as one of the leading institutions of village life. On the financial side, no one ever figured out a real profit on this enterprise. A dozen women put in several days' work collecting and cooking food. The supplies are all given out of home stock. The supper would cost 75 cents to a dollar at the average hotel where equally good food is given. The common price charged is 25 cents.

At the same time you might not be able to raise the same amount of money in any other way. The women throw in their time free, and give 50 cents to $1.00 worth each of flour, sugar, eggs, and butter. Perhaps neither they nor their husbands would give 25 cents in cash.

Financially wasteful, yet the church supper meets a real demand. If you undertook to support church work by advertising a lecture on the poetry of Robert Browning or Rudyard Kipling, you would not get attendance enough to pay the janitor's fee. But people stand in line for church suppers. They hang around for an hour, hungry and weary, for the leavings of second table.

The number who flee the church premises the moment the supper is eaten, suggest that social good fellowship is not the primary motive in drawing the crowd. Probably it is the reputation of first class home cooking that does it. Women are tired of eating the things from their own kitchens. They want to get out and see what the other cooks are doing.

In preparing for church suppers the cooks are on their mettle, feeling that their reputations are at stake. To have your pie spoken disrespectfully of is like making an error in front of a crowded baseball grand stand. The supper assembles the finest culinary art of the town and puts it on the bargain counter at bankrupt prices. No wonder it is popular.

IN MEMORIAM

Zile.—In memory of our dear husband and father, Howard H. Zile, who fell asleep eight years ago, November 3rd, 1906.

Days of sadness still come o'er me,
Tears of sorrow silently flow,
Fond memory keeps my husband near me,
Though Heaven claimed him eight years ago.
Eight years we have grieved since we saw thy dear face
Or heard thy dear voice in our home circle place;
And we wait in our tears, our devotion and love
Until we meet thee with Jesus in Heaven above.
In sad memoriam these lines are penned,
By those who loved you best.

By his wife and children.

Are Your Kidneys Sick?

Many Westminster People Have Kept Well by Keeping Their Kidneys Well

The first symptom of kidney trouble may be only a slight pain in the back, a feeling of stiffness or soreness in the loins, or some annoying irregularity of the urinary passages. Urine is often discolored and perhaps sediment gathers upon standing. Next may come a dull, throbbing backache, sharp, knife-like pains, headaches, dizziness and in many cases, lameness when arising in the morning. No one can afford to delay until these troubles become serious. Begin using Doan's Kidney Pills, the tried and tested kidney remedy that has won the praise of thousands. Westminster readers should find convincing proof of merit in the following statement. It's from a resident of this locality.

Mrs. Charles Hartdagen, Emmitsburg, Md., says: "I was troubled by rheumatic twinges and had severe pains in my back. My eyes were weak. I was unable to get relief until I used Doan's Kidney Pills and was permanently cured of kidney troubles and rheumatic pains. I think Doan's Kidney Pills are fine and I gladly confirm the endorsement I gave them some years ago."

Price 50c, at all dealers. Don't simply ask for a kidney remedy—get Doan's Kidney Pills—the same that Mrs. Hartdagen had. Foster-Milburn Co., Props., Buffalo, N. Y.
