JASONTOWN

We are having a great deal of rain at this writing. It makes it very bad for planting corn. Some are done and some have not yet commenced. Some will have to plant their corn over since the hard rain that we had Saturday which washed the corn fields so badly.

The guests at Mr. Samuel Robertson's on Sunday last were: Mr. Mahlon Lambert, wife and two children, Edward and Elizabeth, of Medford; Mr. Charles Goodwin, wife and little daughter Naomi, of Taneytown. They spent a very pleasant day with their parents.

Rev. Ranoull, of near Woodsboro, preached a very fine sermon at Wakefield Church of God on Sunday last and I think every one enjoyed it very much.

Mrs. Harry Fowler had the misfortune to run a large splinter in the palm of her hand while washing up the floor, about two weeks ago. Dr. Whitehill has been attending her but as yet has been unable to remove it.

Mr. William Robertson and wife were Sunday guests of Mr. Harry Myers, of near Mayberry.

Mr. Harry Young and wife and little son called on Mr. and Mrs. James Robertson on Sunday last.

Mr. Hosea Robertson called on his uncle, Mr. James Robertson, on Monday last.

Mrs. Gertrude Gilbert, of Medford, called on her sister, Mrs. James Robertson, on Monday last.

MT. OLIVE

We had a very heavy rain Saturday. It was very good for wheat and grass but it washed the corn fields in some places considerably.

Quite a number of our folks attended the funeral of Mrs. J. O. Harrison, at Morgan Chapel, Sunday.

MEMORIAL DAY 1915

For those of us who wish to commemorate Memorial Day, and who cannot for various reasons participate in the services, and the decoration at the graves of our departed soldiers and sailors, another way has suggested itself to me, that in memory of those that have gone, we help to "ease the dying." The following article from The New York Times, says: "1400 men are lying, wounds unattended, raging with typhus fever, on plank floors, for want of mattresses, near Mish, Serbia." We can in some measure relieve this dreadful situation, if we WILL by a little trouble, time and money, namely, by sending spool thread Nos. 30 to 60 white, and pieces of bed ticking to the following address: Nina L. Duryea, American Relief Clearing House, Pier 57, North River, New York, where boxes thus addressed will go quickly and free of cost. Please write contents on outside of box. See following article:

"TO EASE THE DYING"

"An Appeal for Pieces of Bed Ticking and Spools of Cotton
To the Editor of The New York Times:

Owing to personal affairs, I have to remain in Paris, and am hard at work for the war sufferers in a wider way than was possible at Dinard. Here I am in touch with the small and miserable hospitals all over France, Poland and Serbia, and I am begging again of your splendidly generous readers for help. This time I plead for spools of cotton thread and coarse ticking for mattresses for Serbia, where near Nish, 1400 men are lying, wounds unattended, raging with typhus fever, on plank floors, because there isn't a single mattress in the building.

Miss Arthur, head of the medical department of the Young Woman's Christian Association here, has gotten together by subscription money enough to pay one hundred women, twenty cents a day each, to make up mattress covers, but there is not enough ticking to be had, and it is the law that no shop may now sell more than one spool of white cotton thread to an individual, as the stock has almost run out in France. Therefore I beg that compassionate souls will send pieces of bed ticking and spools of cotton between 30 and 60. If every one could donate a quarter of a dollar each, those thousands of agonized heroes would at least die more comfortably or be enabled to fight their second battle with death under more favorable conditions. A wooden floor is not a happy place where bodies are in torture. So please help them. Direct boxes thus and they will come quickly and free of cost: Duryea, American Relief Clearing House, Pier 57, North River, New York.

Write contents of boxes on the outside, to avoid opening as men are scarce.

NINA L. DURYEA,
Hotel Roosevelt, Paris.

TOWN PROMOTION NO. 6

In one good sized city there was a lot of dissatisfaction with what the board of trade had been able to accomplish. Members and citizens were asked to bring in suggestions of what ought to be done. A big meeting was held, and about forty different suggestions, most of them good, were made. Attention was so scattered about on different ideas that nothing was accomplished in any one of the lines mentioned.

In another place, a country town, a business men's association was formed and it appointed six small sized committees. Each committee was asked to take up for one year only one thing, but to make every possible effort to put through that one thing.

It was an apple raising region, and the agricultural committee voted to concentrate their attention on better packing and sorting of their fruit. They hired a professional sorter and before the season was over they were all getting 50 cents a barrel more for their apples. Similarly each of the other committees held one thing in view, and got at least one notable thing done during the year. Many larger cities could well copy the determination and concentration of this little country town.

The trouble with Board of Trade and town promotion work, is that what is everybody's business is nobody's business. There is a unanimous and settled determination "to let George do it." Towns that are built up and go ahead do not grow in that way.

If twenty men could be secured, in any town who would agree to give two hours a week to serve on the various committees needed for town promotion work, very surprising results could usually be secured. Two hours a week is not much time for anyone, but a great deal of public work could be done by twenty men in that time.

Any town can grow in population and in public advantages, if it is willing to pay the price. The price is not large compared with the results. All that is needed is that the citizens have the vision to see how large those results might be. Will this town be able to see and to grasp its opportunities
