Local Correspondence

MANCHESTER

After looking over my notes and thinking what I might have to say for news matter of the week, it occurred to me that we now have had a month of local option and as was prophesied by the would-be knowing ones, that after the first of May the town would be dead, but from our observation on the first of June we find it the liveliest dead town you can imagine; everybody looks and seems the same. Our business places are receiving goods daily, our cigar factories are all in operation and if you visit South Main street you would imagine it is among the most progressive towns, with piles of sand, stone and cement that Mr. Lester Shaffer and workmen are converting into concrete pavements, curbs and gutters, so that in a few days that part of the town from Oak Tree avenue to the end will be fully macadamized with the above improvements and when the street is graded to conform to them it will add much to the general appearance all along the line. Upon the whole we believe the town has been benefitted. The Hotel de Stick is opened to the public where mine host G. D. Barnhart, is giving the traveling public fine entertainment so that along that line there is no loss. Everybody seems to have money and farmers go and come as usual. It is claimed by some persons that there is plenty of booze all the time along the secret lines. If so, it only makes them subjects of the detective force that eventually will pick them up and they will have to add their share to the fine fund.

The members of the new Lutheran Church are handicapped and much disappointed in not being able to dedicate their church as was announced on Sunday, June 12th, but had to be postponed on account of not getting the three large windows. The manufacturer is held up in finishing the same by losing his principal artists, a German and an Englishman, who were prominent workmen, both of whom left for their respective countries to enlist, and until these places can be filled no certainty can be given of the arrival of the windows and a date announced for the dedication.

Miss Mae Musselman gave a progressive 500 card party on Thursday evening, May 27, at her home on Oak Tree avenue, in honor of her guest, Miss Longnecker, of Harrisburg. The guests were pleasantly received by the hostess who had all things ready for a pleasant time. The prizes were won by Miss Corrinne Sherman and Mr. Rudolph Wink. At an advanced hour of the evening a halt was called and fine refreshments were served. Those of the company were: Mrs. J. E. Musselman, Misses Mae Musselman, Vera Longnecker, Corinne Sherman, Fannie Shower, Ray Hoffacker, Myrtle Loats, Frances Slack, Pearl Garrity, Effie Slack, Anna Shultz, Mary Crumrine, Mollie Brilhart, Messrs. Harold Frankforter, Robert Folgert, Rudolph Wink, John Slack, Sterling Shaffer, Roy Warehime, Raymond Buchman, D. Spangler and Harry Musselman.

Mrs. George Ament happened with a sad accident on Wednesday of last week at the home of the late Miss Laura Burns where she was a helper in entertaining relatives. About 4 P. M., when the work was done and everybody gone, Mrs. A. went up stairs to get some paper for wrapping and it appears there were pies up there. Getting what she wanted with a pie in each hand, she started down the stairs, making a misstep she fell from the top to the room below, breaking her collar bone and bruising her back and head. There was no other person in the house at the time but a neighbor came in quite soon and found her suffering. Dr. Denner was called and adjusted the fracture and dressed the wounds. In early evening she was carried to the home of her son Curvin, on South Main street, where she is improving under good care.

At a special meeting of the Willing Workers Aid Society on Monday evening full arrangements were made and special committees were appointed to make the strawberry festival on Saturday evening, June 12, on the lawn of Miss Carrie Baker, a success.

IN MEMORIAM

LINEART.—In sad, but loving remembrance of our dear sister, Mary Alverta Lineart, who departed this life six years ago today, June 5, 1909.

Rest on dearest sister,
Six long years have passed away,
Thou art gone but not forgotten,
For we think of you day by day.

Why should we wish her back again
To this world of sorrows and trouble,
When we know she is safe with Jesus.

By her sister, Amanda Brilhart.
