UNIONTOWN

The hallowe'en party given by H. B. Fogle and Mrs. Annie Wright's school Friday afternoon in the school room was a very novel and enjoyable affair.

The school house had lately been painted, and the interior walls finished in light grey tint showing to advantage the artistic drawings done by the pupils, but for the occasion, leaves, nuts and other suitable trimmings, for a hallowe'en scene, were added. The rooms were darkened, only lit up with pumpkin lanterns. Ghosts prowled around and a witch told fortunes; music and recitations filled in and then the sunlight was admitted. There was quite a large audience present and they, with the scholars were all treated to pumpkin and apple pie, ginger cakes and coffee. The mothers and friends all seemed to enjoy the fun with the children.

Robert Davidson, an aged gentleman, in getting up from the breakfast table last Wednesday, stumbled and fell over a chair to the floor. He severely bruised his arm and shoulder, has not been able to use it since, and is confined to bed.

UNION MILLS

The Democratic meeting at our hall, last Saturday night, was addressed by Michael E. Walsh, candidate for State's Attorney and Guy W. Steele, of Westminster, and Col. Wood, of Frederick. Music was furnished by the Carroll County Reed Band. The attendance was not large, as there were many vacant seats, and there was little enthusiasm.

Last Shnday, Messrs. Ira G. Lawyer, Lewis E. Shriver, Calvin E. Bankert and Geo. W. Bankert, motored to Greencastle, Pa., which place they reached in time to attend the morning service at the Reformed Church where the sessions of Potomac Synod were held. Going to Greencastle the party passed through Gettysburg and Chambersburg, and returning, a route through Hagerstown, Frederick, Sykesville and Westminster was selected. One hundred and forty-two miles were covered on the run and nearly all the way over ine State roads. The mountain scenery was unsurpassed in its autumnal glory, and the four gentlemen were delighted with their day's outing. Mr. Lawyer's automobile was used, with himself as chauffeur, and he did the trick splendidly.

His Eminence, Cardinal Gibbons, spent a few days at Avalon, the home of Mr. B. F. Shriver, this week. Another guest of Mr. Shriver's is his daughter, Mrs. James S. Kernan, of Utica, N. Y.

From the number of automobiles being sold in the rural districts, the farmer's family is evidently no longer satisfied with such recreations as sitting on the piazza and counting the number of machines that pass in a day.

Build Your Own Ice House--of Concrete

There's many a comfort that you can enjoy during the sweltering heat of the summer if you have a good and well filled ice house.

Why not build one now and be prepared?

Ice houses built of concrete are especially good, since they are heat-resisting, do not rot from the continual dampness of the ice, never require repairs and are fireproof.

Our Bulletin, "Concrete in the Country," tells you just how to construct one. Send for it. It's free.

Though changing his base of operations frequently, the Kaiser has nothing on Woodrow Wilson, whose lightning-change on the issue of national defence is only the latest in a long series of operations reversing himself.

The President has finally declared in favor of adequate preparation "not for war but for defense," as he puts it. But, in looking forward to putting such a program through Congress, it behooves the President to prepare for war—with Mr. Bryan.
