My dear Sally

Your letter of ~~Tues~~ 4th was delayed by our mail for a day or two and since receiving it I have not until this morning, and even now it has to be done in snatches, between giving orders to a half a dozen different people. First of all then about the Baltimore business. I felt just as you wrote about it until I heard first from you and again since I came home, that this ~~paper~~ deed and lawyers fee to procure it, was necessary to make the will valid. This being the case I suppose we should all share in the expense. For instance some of Dan's friends have said he was very foolish to sign

~~on Uncle Hister please find from him what time he~~ This had better not be asked so I will not complete the sentence please excuse the erasing. I have written to Aunts acknowledging the invitation and asking how late in the month they can receive us. I am convinced that it is necessary for Emily to go away some where. Harry does not want me to go away without him so he will answer for the man necessary to be with Father. I want he and Cousin to come here as soon as they please now and stay until we can go to wherever it is decided for us. I am much better the last few days, than I have been at all. Thank Han for her letter and give her very much love from me. I am too busy with Mary Gibson to do much writing. We will be glad to have the boys when school and college closes. With fondest love

Believe me your sister
