My Dear Son

Cousin read to me your letter received last evening and I felt at that time as though the tangle of the skein were being a little straightened out & your proposition later in connection with your sisters plans and your aunt's invitation to spend July with them at New Port was a very satisfactory adjustment of a difficulty. If you sister & Cousin and I went there - or your sister & Sally & I & Cousin preferred staying here that would bring us to the time when you & Harry would leave your home
