My dear Gale

Yours at hand I am sorry to hear of your "plague" I think when the Lord left here the "bumps" were mosquito bites, and that she must have run afoul of the other pests afterwards, perhaps and very likely from that miserable old "rig" of a house that was on the Boat. for although she did not come in contact with him there nice little things can crawl about and in that way perhaps she got them. We have nothing of the sort on any of ours that I can discover, and they very rarely are found upon a horse in good condition. yours
