My dear Gally

I have only time for a hurried note to acknowledge yours received yesterday. I saw Uncle James this morning, and when I asked when he would go to Baltimore he said he did not know, that there was some little law matter that must be attended to I told him you had written to me of it, and that we would all be satisfied if there could be an arrangement made to ignore that debt of Frannys. He said he had not thought of that, but that he would be quite willing also. I then asked about the Real estate, and he said that the Court would have to divide it, and
