FARM ANIMALS

WHOLESOME FEED FOR SOWS

Special Attention Should Be Given to Animal Expected to Farrow Strong, Healthy Pigs.

The brood sow that is expected to farrow good, strong healthy pigs should receive a little special attention. During the first few weeks of pregnancy there is little extra demand on the mother, but later in the period the fetus is developing rapidly, and the extra care is necessary.

The brood sow must have plenty of clean, wholesome feed. The feed should not be fattening, but succulent and somewhat laxative. Roots, kale or fine clover hay are good winter green feeds. The hay is not green, but has the same effect on the digestion. Clover or alfalfa hay may be fed in racks where the sow can help herself at will. Do not force her to make her living altogether from this diet, but it supplements the grain very nicely. Don't starve the sow and expect to get a strong litter of pigs.

It is best to have the sows separated from the rest of the hogs, and if the old sows fight the younger ones make a further separation. It doesn't pay to subject the pregnant sow to punishment. Oftentimes they are found in the steer feed lot, where they are bunted around too much. Of course it is best not to shut them up in the farrowing pen until a few weeks before farrowing. They should be in there, however, long enough beforehand to become accustomed to the place. If you wait until the sow has picked her bed or nest, trouble may result. Keep the sow well fed, well exercised, and in clean quarters for best results when it comes to farrowing time.

SHEEP REQUIRE DRY SHELTER

In Ordinary Climate House for Animals May Be Constructed of One Thickness of Boards.

Contrary to general opinion, sheep as well as any other class of farm animals require clean, dry shelter. It is especially important that the feet and fleece be kept dry. If their quarters are dry and clean the sheep will stand very cold weather without discomfort or disease. There must be ample ventilation, for sheep, if closely crowded, sweat badly and quickly use up the oxygen in the air, but there must be no drafts as sheep are easily subject to colds.

In the ordinary climate the sheep barn may be constructed of one thickness of matched boards. It should be large enough to house the entire flock without crowding. Windows enough to permits lots of sunshine to enter and clean, dry bedding under foot are necessities. The lambing pens should be of warmer construction than the general shed.

RIGHT WAY TO CATCH SHEEP

Get Him Either by Hind Leg or Placing Hand Under Jaw—Never Grab Him by the Wool.

It is improper to catch a sheep by its wool. Butchers know what it means to the poor animal, for it leaves a black or blue mark or bruise on the carcass, which interferes with the sale of it.

Catch a sheep either by the hind leg or by placing the hand underneath the jaw or neck. When using a crook, aim to catch a sheep above the gambrel joint, as there is danger of injuring the leg when catching it below this joint.

REMOVE YOUNG PIGS' TUSKS

Youngsters Often Use Teeth in Fighting for Possession of Teat—Not a Difficult Job.

When young pigs are nursing they will often fight one another for the possession of a teat, and at that early age will make use of their tusks. The results are many lacerated mouths. The teats of the sows sometimes become sore from the same cause.

The removal of the tusks is the best way to prevent these troubles. This is done by taking a pig under the left arm, the mouth is then opened and the tusks are broken off near the gums on both sides of the mouth.

CLEAR SKIN COMES FROM WITHIN

It is foolish to think you can gain a good clear complexion by the use of face powder. Get at the root of the trouble and thoroughly clense the system with treatment of Dr. King's New Life Pills. Gentle and mild in action, do not gripe, yet they relieve the liver by their action on the bowels. Good for young, adults and aged. Go after a clear complexion to-day. 25c. at your druggist. 1

The Graham Cracker with the Delicious Taste

N. B. C. Graham Crackers are incomparably the finest flavored of graham crackers. Thanks to our careful selection of grain and thorough preparation, we get just the right proportion of elements to make a wholesome biscuit and one that is the most palatable and appetizing of its kind.

Try N. B. C. Graham Crackers for their delicious nut-like flavor and flaky crispness. Use them regularly at meals and between meals, because they are as digestible as they are nourishing.

COLLEGE GIRLS ATHLETICS

A recent observer of the Women's colleges reports a tremendous growth in interest in athletic exercises. Formerly the college girl might play croquet, and a few of the more strenuous tried tennis. That was about all. Their sporting fields were called recreation grounds, and even the word "athletic" was considered unladylike.

Today the college girls are playing baseball, polo, basket ball, lacrosse, they have swimming and hockey and about everything but football. Intercollegiate sports have become common.

The time may even come when women will compete with men in these sports on even terms. When you consider how women of primitive ages did the hardest of manual labor, there seems no reason why women may not before many years acquire physical strength equal to men. It would be a terrible blow to some of the men's colleges to be beaten by the girls, yet the latter will keep training rules better, and will think quicker. There may be a dreadful downfall one of these days for the kings of sport.

THE TONGUE

"The boneless tongue, so small and weak,
Can crush and kill," declares the Greek.

"The tongue destroys a greater horde,"
The Turk asserts, "than does the sword."

The Persian proverb wisely saith,
"A lengthy tongue, an early death";

Or sometimes takes this form instead,
"Don't let your tongue cut off your head.'"

"The tongue can speak a word whose speed,"
Say the Chinese, "outstrips the steed";

While Arab sages this impart,
"The tongue's great storehouse is the heart."

From Hebrew wit the maxim sprung,
"Though feet should slip, ne'er let the tongue."

The sacred writer crowns thewhole,
"Who keeps his tongue doth keep his soul."

THE "PUT-IT-OFFS."

My friend, have you ever heard of the town of Yawn,
On the banks of the river Slow,
Where blooms the Wait-a-while flower fair,
Where the Some-time-or-other scents the air,

And the soft Go-easys grow?
It lies in the valley of What's-the-use,
In the province of Let-it-slide,
That tired feeling is native there—
It's the name of the listless I-don't-care,
Where the Put-it-offs abide.

A YOUNG DIPLOMAT

"I hope you didn't ask for a second helping of pie when you were at Mrs. Smith's house," said Johnny's mother. "No'm, I didn't," said Johnny. "I just asked her for the receipt, so you could make some pie just like it, and then she gave me another piece without my asking for it."

NOT NEAR ENOUGH TO HELP

A promoter from the west was trying to sell a clerk in Pittsburgh a few shares of stock The clerk, however was not anxious to invest. "Why should I buy stock in your mine?" he said. "My dear man, we're right next to the Skinned Cat, which is producing fabulous wealth." "Yes, and I live in a boarding house that is right next to the mansion of a steel millionaire. But that does not make me worth anything."

ARE THERE SUCH TEACHERS?

One day Mr. Smith went to buy a bushel of buckwheat for sowing. The man who sold the wheat was away, but his wife undertook to wait on the customer. She found a peck measure, and they went to the granery. She filled the measure twice, and pouring the contents into the bag, began to tie it up. "But, Mrs. Lawton," said the man, "it takes four pecks to make a bushel." "Oh, does it?" replied the woman, as she untied the bag. "Well, you see I never had any experience in measuring grain before I married Mr. Lawton. I always taught school."

DOES SLOANS LINAMENT HELP RHEUMATISM?
