MANCHESTER

The dry demonstration on Tuesday was a reminder that the proposition has aroused the citizens to an activity that will be fully demonstrated on Tuesday, 7th, that they do not want any charnge along that line. They were here on schedule time and soon had the band on the square giving fine selections, followed by a quartette, duets with chorus that was taken up by the crowd and sang with a will. The speakers were loaded full of denials of the fallacies that have been sent broad cast over the district in regard to taxation, handling the matters without gloves and establishing the fact that the conditions all along the line socially, morally and financially are better than before, and from the showing present it seemed evident that the citizens are satisfied and want no change. When the time was up and the start made or Melrose, the citizens all along the line on North Main street were treated to a display of autos never before seen on our streets. 163 passed in view decorated with bunting and Old Glory floating in the breeze proud of the great demonstration.

The barn on the farm of Mr. Geo. Face, east of Greenmount, and in full view was destroyed by fire on Sunday. There was no one at the home but Mr. F. At 9 A. M. he hitched the horse in the buggy and his wife and daughter, Mrs. Brown, went on a visit among friends. After their leaving he went into the house and was reading. Near noon his attention was attracted by a noise that he thought was a passing auto and the smoke he saw was from the same, but still later his attention was again called by a cracking noise and arousing from his revery he looked out and discovered the building on fire and help coming. The Hampstead Fire Company was notified but upon their arrival the building was all ablaze, but they did good work in saving the surrounding buildings and saved much of the corn. It is said only about five barrel were burned. A big crowd was attracted to the scene ready to aid in saving the home. The barn was a new one, only built a year ago after the barn was destroyed by lightning. His grain had been threshed and marketed but a lot of provender was consumed.

A company of ladies and gentlemen from Hampstead motored here on Wednesday evening and parked their autos along the pavement on Foundry avenue. After alighting they captured the home of Mr. and Mrs. W. C. Stick and made the host and hostess prisoners for the evening along social lines that all heartily enjoyed, particularly the features of the complete surprise, but after the prisoners came to themselves they entered into the pleasures of the occasion while time sped and at a later hour the visitors demonstrated their prearranged plans by coming fully equipped for a fine set out, so that when the company was invited to the dinningroom all enjoyed the hospitalities of the friends amid much cheer and merriment. Those of the company were: Mr. and Mrs. W. C. Stick, Mr. and Mrs. Seaks, Mr. and Mrs. Peter Rineman, Dr. and Mrs. E. M. Bush, Dr. and Mrs. Geo. Rupp, Mr. and Mrs. William Fuhrman, Mr. and Mrs. Marshall Wagner, Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Miller, Mr. and Mrs. Zumbrum, Mrs, C. Gill, Mrs. H. Blocher, Misses G. Seaks, Mary Rineman and A. Leister.

On Thursday evening after the regular business and close of the lodge the members of Manchester Rebekah Lodge No. 18, I. O. O. F., enjoyed a spelling bee that was full of merriment that run into a social period when some of the sisters furnished a Hallow e'en set out of pumpkin custards, ginger bread, chips and coffee to which all did full justice.

Young Sandrac who was in the motor accident at the railroad crossing, near Hampstead, is improving. The bones of the nose were broken and proved the most painful of his injuries.

Mrs. Edward Rhodes, of Hanover, was a guest of her sister, Mrs. A. E. B. Myers, during the week end.

The stork in its flight on Tuesday morning left a fine Hallow e'en baby girl at the home of Mr. Charles A. Miller.
