My dear Sally

Your letter of the 21st was received on Saturday evening we had been watching and hoping to hear from some one further particulars about the property, and what you tell us is more astonishing than ever. As you have in each letter been so urgent that we should not mention the difficulty, I have of course kept quiet. But I still think that it would be better to go directly to Uncle James who may know some thing or have some papers which will clear the whole thing. Harry go to see Mr Groom. He expects to be in Baltimore all of the week but will be busy at the Episcopal Convention. It is very very strange and the more I think about it the stranger it appears. I suppose Israel and Annie got off on Saturday, and I hope the voyage and rest may be just what he needs, and set him up again, but I do not like the constant recurrence of this swelling & pain in his limb. You do not say any thing about Han, has she rested yet from the journey? I do hope the change is of benefit to her. In your next let me know how she is Cousin and all of the family join me in fondest love to her and to all of you. Harry will not go to Philadelphia for some time will wait until Cousin desires to return and take charge of her. Let us hear from you as soon as you can about your family as we feel so deeply interested in matters here & remain to enclose your letter which I found on my table at home

Your loving Sister
