MANCHESTER

The Ladies' Aid Society of Immanuel Lutheran church was held in the social hall on Monday evening, February 26th. After the regular routine of business was attended to an interesting program was well given in honor of America's greatest poet, Henry W. Longfellow. Sketch of the life of Longfellow by Mr. Basler; recitation, The Village Blacksmith, Corrinne Miller; singing, "Where they grow, Clarence Leatherman, Mary Preston, Margaret Theiret, Grace Hann, Margaret Stoffle; reading, "Wreck of the Hesperus" Mrs. Rudolph Wink; recitation, "The children's Hour," Elsie Denner; solo, "The Bridge," Longfellow, Miss Edna LaMotte; reading, From Longfellow, Rev. Leatherman.

On Sunday Mr. and Mrs. Jacob C. Frankforter gave a home coming dinner in honor of their son Paul who was a member of Company E. Fifth Maryland Regiment, who arrived home safely on Saturady evening, looking hale and hearty after an eight months experience on the border. He is quite an open book and with his many souvenirs of camp and Mexican life he is quite entertaining. When he enlisted he was an employee of the Electric and Gas Company and will enter upon his duties with the same company on the 5th of March. The guests all had a hearty welcome and after a social period were invited to a fine dinner that was finished with peach and caramel ice cream, cake and coffee. Those of the company were: Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Frankforter, Paul, H. C. and Mrs. Frankforter, Mrs. J. H. Sherman, Mrs. May E. Gettier, Misses Gary Abkin, Kate Belchner, Rev. and Mrs. F. H. Blatt and G. W. J. Everhart.

The entertainment in the Movie Theater on Thursday evening, 22nd, was a decided success financially and socially, with a packed house even to standing room when the curtain went up at 8 P. M. The teacher and scholars of the village school in Friday afternoon were greeted with a loud and long applause, to see grandmothers in young girls dress with hair ribbons in big brows, and middle aged and young men playing the 10 year old school boy with gum chewing, hair pulling and all manner of boyish tricks. The teacher with ruler and rod did her best to bring order out of chaos, but to her questions she received the most ridiculous answers. The singing was fairly good and upon the whole an hour of clean fun that was heartily enjoyed. When the curtain went down Mr. Lippy with helpers got busy and soon had the scenery changed and his screen in place and gave the audience an interesting reel at the naval Academy with the instructions to the recruits until they are full fledged cadets. Then an interesting reel of dogs, closing with a drama. When the members of the clubs made settlement with the ticket agent they found they had $31.35 to their credit for the treasury.

On Friday evening the members of Daniel and Jacob Lodge No. 23, with their families and invited friends, enjoyed a three course oyster supper in the banquet room of their hall, after which they were nicely entertained in the lodge room with the following program: Singing, America; prayer, Chaplain J. W. T. Burgoon; singing, Columbia the Gem of the Ocean; address, Rev. Wagner; reading, Miss Minnie Burgoon; piano solo, Mrs. Walter W. Wentz, address Rev. F. H. Blatt;-recitation, Mrs. Dillard; address, Rev. Leatherman; singing, Maryland My Maryland.

The remains of Mrs. Robert Williams were brought here on Tuesday from the home of her sister Mrs. Clay Wilhelm, near Rayville, Baltimore county, where she died from paralysis, and were taken to the home of her sister-in-law, Mrs. Jacob Wink, and were laid to rest in the Lutheran Cemetery, Rev. Leatherman officiating. She was aged 65 years and 7 months.

The members of Pocahontas Thioe of Red Men had a profit of $80 from their festival and supper to add to their bank account.

Miss Helen Roeder and her friend, Miss Gertrude Richards, teachers of domestic science in Baltimore, were guests of Miss Julia Roeder on Washington's birthday at the home of Miss Fannie Ross. They met many old friends. Miss Helen was one of our girls during the years her father, Rev. S. M. Roeder was pastor of the Manchester Reformed charge.

Miss Julia Masenhimer was kept from her bank duties during the week from an attack of grip.

Mr. Cornelius Gouder, a guest at the home of Mr. Edward Kneller, who had passed his 82nd mile stone some weeks ago, had a fall that so shocked his system that he is enfeebled and a shut-in in his room.

Mr. John B. Baker and sister Carrie have had sad news from their sister, Mrs. Irvin D. Scrimger, of Wilson-Salem, N. C. Mr. S. had to go to the hospital to be operated on for some ear trouble and their niece, Josephine Shaffer, of Thurmont, who was with them going to school, was taken with scarlet fever and the home was quarantined; a late letter informs them that Mrs. S. had to go to the hospital suffering with the same ear trouble, so that the niece is in the home attended by a trained nurse.

Master Harry Rhodes while playing on the school ground had a deep cut across the eyebrow with a bat that Dr. J. H. Sherman had to put a stitch in when dressing it, and the swelling was so great for some days he was almost blinded.

The scholars of the schools celebrated Washington's Birthday, with the following exercise: Singing, Ode to Washington; A Washington Catechism, by school; exercise, Our Flag, by second grade; quartette, Star Spangled Banner; recitation, "The Ballad of Betsy Ross," LaRue Barnhart; reading, Margaret Zulauf; singing, "Mt. Vernon Bells;" recitation, Washington's Day," Ruth Wolfe; Current Events, Maurice Ament; reading on Lincoln, Edna Armacost; dialogue, telling about George Washington,first grade; recitation, Johnny on George Washington, Ober Witter; address, Rev. Blatt; autobiography on a hatchet, Ernest Brilhart; recitation, "Our President," Gertrude Abkin; Your opinion of the situation of national affairs, Howard Wink; reading, Washington, Edyth Logue; address, Rev. Leatherman; singing, America.

The condition of Mr. George A. Shower shows but little change and requires careful nursing to make him comfortable.

Mr. and Mrs. J. M. Motter, of Baltimore were guests of Miss Fannie G. Ross during the week end.

Mr. Warehime moved from the Alfred Bachman farm, Bachman's Valley, to the Charles W. Grove farm one mile west of town on Thursday last.

Everybody has a chance to make their mark this morning with a snow shovel to rid the walks and pavements of a 6 inch snow that fell during the night, and 8 A. M. 28th still snowing. The trees and shrubbery are all decorated, exhibiting a beautiful winter scene.
