UNION MILLS

The engineering corps of the Washington, Westminster and Gettysburg Rail Road, with headquarters at the residence of Ira G. Lawyer, Union Mills, is now at work making the preliminary survey of the road through this part of Carroll county. As now laid out, the road crosses the Shriver mill race near the bend, the Hanover road a short distance south of the iron bridge, Big Pipe Creek about midway between that bridge and the stone bridge, and the turnpike at the west end of the last named bridge. From this point the route will likely be to Marker's mill, then to Kingsdale, Pa., and from there to Littlestown, Pa.

MANCHESTER

After due deliberation some weeks ago the minister and consistory of Immanuel Lutheran church settled upon a project to raise $1000 as an offering on Palm Sunday for a payment on the church debt. The matter was announced to the congregations at subsequent services and still better the members were canvassed at their homes. In due time special envelopes with full instructions were distributed to each member and friend. Services were held during the week and by the appointed time the envelopes were in and contents counted that was a pleasant surprise being $1793, that was made$1800 Seven of the envelopes contained $100 each while none had less than $2.00. It was a fine object lesson in unity.

The members of the Manchester Firemen and their ladies held their annual supper in the banquet room of the O. O. O. F. Hall on Friday evening, 3rd ult. The members and ladies were received by the committee and taken to the lodge room where, after shedding their wraps, they joined the social circle in pleasant conversation. They had with them Russel P. Smith, President of the State Firemen's Association, of Cambridge, Md., who arrived by the 7.30 bus and was introduced to the members and friends. Shortly after the invitation was given to the banquet room where they found plates laid for fifty with the table appointments first class and the tables groaning under a royal feast. The menu consisted of roast turkey, roast chicken, mashed potatoes, dressing that made your mouth water, celery, pickles, all in abundance and to which all did full justice even to the limit, when the committee served a course of Gregory's fine ice cream that barely could find room for comfort among the digestive arrangement. But amid many pleasantries the finish was made and the honored guest delimited time. He said farewell and limited, time he said farewell and was taken to Reisterstown by auto from there by trolley to Baltimore where at 3 A. M. he went aboard a boat to be home in time on Saturday morning at his desk attending to his duties as Register of Wills of Dorchester County.

On Sunday morning Mr. and Mrs. George Panebaker, of Westminster, Mr. and Mrs. Fringer, of Taneytown, with a chauffeur in Mr. P's new car on a pleasure trip made a call at the home of Mrs. A. E. B. Myers, a cousin; on leaving they took the old familiar valley road that Mr. P. for years was accustomed to travel over by day and night behind that spirited black or the hopping grey in the century wagon that was a jolter from Jolterstown. There is every reason to believe that it brought thoughts of those by-gone days in travel then that took hours he was now making it in minutes to reach the summit of Ol' Dug Hill from which they had a view of the fine homes in the valley among which was the old homestead with its broad acres in full view around which clustered many reminiscences of childhood days and the hardships of later years ere the retirement was taken and so arranged that the farm now is only half an hour away from the retired home by the latest improved gohickle.

The flitting season made quite a change in and about the Hotel de Stick. Mine host D. B. Barnhart sold the hotel equipment at public sale on the 29th preparatory to his moving to the Barnhart home on the state road and Mr. and Mrs. Clinton Barnhart became host and hostess on Tuesday where they are prepared to entertain the traveling public with fine service. Mr. and Mrs. C. W. Stick moved from their flat on Foundry avenue to the Stick Hotel Hampstead vacated by Mr. Duvall. Mr. Charles Barnhart has taken the blacksmith shop on Oak Tree avenue vacated by Clinton, and will give the customers good service.

Mr. Green and family of Hanover moved into the Franforter home on South Main street on Friday; he is an employee of the Newland Cigar factory.

Mr. David J. Yingling, of the firm of Grove & Yingling, machinery men, moved into the new house on the site of the old hotel on North Main street.

Mr. George M. Hoffman was out early on Monday greeting all comers to the store and receiving congratulations. He was passing his 40th mile stone.

P. G., Maggie Brilhart represented Manchester Rebekah lodge No. 18 I. O. O. F. at the Rebekah Assembly in Baltimore this week.

Mr. and Mrs. Howard Hoffman spent some days last week with friends in Baltimore.

The home and personal effects of the late Anna Graf were sold at public sale on the 31st, that was largely attended and good prices realized; the home was knocked down to Henry Graf for $923 with 6 3-4 acres of farming land.

The churches are holding services every evening during Holy week.

Mr. Paul Leese assistant post master who suffered a bilious attack with grip several weeks ago is now able to be up about the home.

THE KINGS

Three kings riding forth of old
(Myrrh and frankincense and gold.)

Three kings waiting fearful dawn
Where the battle lines are drawn.

Kings of bloody strife, how far
You have wandered from your star!
—Henry William Hoyne in Cemtury.

Genius gets the world's praise, because its work is a tangible product, to be bought, or had for nothing. Character evolves its best products for home consumption; but, mind you, it takes a deal more to feed a family for thirty years than to make a holiday feast for neighbors once or twice in our lives

—The Professor at the Breakfast-table

It Really Was A Nasty Shame That Someone Started That "Terrible" Report.

An unusual quiet pervaded the "sanctum of Dan Cupid" in the office of the Clerk of the Court of Common Pleas, Baltimore, Monday. Up to a late hour only a few couples had applied for marriage licenses.

All of the clerks were wondering what had happened in the "marriage market." Then a telephone rang and Clerk "Tom" O' Neill answered:

"Hello; is the License Bureau closed?" came a faltering voice.

"No, we are doing business at the same old stand," replied the clerk.

"Well, I've been told they wouldn't issue them on account of the war scare," said the voice.

Then another and another and even another called up to receive the same reply.

"Tom" is trying to ascertain who started the rumor.

IN MEMORIAM

FRANKLIN

In sad, but loving remembrance of my dear husband and papa, Charles R. Franklin, who departed this life two years ago to-day. April 9. 1915.

Two long years have passed, dear Charley,
Since death strangely bade us part.
But, dear Charley, all these changes
Can not take you from my heart.

Gone in the best of his days,
Blighted in manhood bloom.
Torn from the hearts that love him
To sleep in the silent tomb.

I never can for-get you, papa,
While in this world I stay;
When the form of death overcomes me.
Meet me dear papa, on my way.

We cannot understand why we must part
From those we love so dear,
But God who doeth all things well,
Will some day make it clear.

But with us you could no longer stay,
For Oh! so suddenly you were called away;
Rest on dear husband, thy labor is o'er,
And thy willing hands will toil no more

Farewell, dear Charley, is an awful word,
Which pierces my heart
But Oh, it is the will of God;
The dearest ones must part.

I cannot for-get you, dear Charley,
Though long may seem the years.
And oft in the lonely hours
I wipe away many a tear.

So I'll try and still my heartaches,
And do my best to smile,
For God will let me come to you
After a little while.

Dear Charley, how can we give you up?
At seems to us unjust,
To lay you in the cold, damp ground,
To molder into dust.

He sleeps, but was so young and fair.
He slumbers sweet and knows no care;
His heart was pure, his life so young,
Yet not our will, but God's he done.
By his wife and baby.

Annoying Kidney Ills

Make Like Miserable for Many Westminster People.

There's nothing more annoying than kidney weakness or inability to properly control the kidney secretions. Night and day alike, the sufferer is tormented and what with the burning and scalding, the attendant backache, headache and dizziness, life is indeed, a burden. Doan's Kidney Pills have given peace and comfort to many Westminster people. Profit by this Westminster resident's experience.

Mrs. Oliver Myers, 33 Liberty St. Westminster, says: "I had a bad case of kidney trouble and my back gave me no end of annoyance. It seemed as if I was being cut across the small of my back with a knife. My feet swelled very much and my sight became poor. I didn't know what to do. The kidney secretions caused me annoyance. After using one box of Doan's Kidney Pills, I was relieved and I kept on taking them until I had finished three boxes. Now I am entirely cured of kidney trouble."

Price 50c, at all dealers. Don't simply ask for a kidney remedy—get Doan's Kidney Pills—the same that Mrs. Myers had. Foster-Milburn Co., Props., Buffalo, N. Y.
