1884 October - December Galloway C. Morris incoming letters MS 1994

hear that the Store is likely to be vacant again, and hope it may soon find a tenant. Would it not be well for "Feldmeyer" to put a notice in the window?

I had a letter from Cousin Emily last night, she mentions the narrow escape that Israel and Annie had, in being thrown out of the buggy, I hope it has not had any serious consequence to either of them. We feel truly thankful that it was not more serious at the time.

Yesterday we had a visit from Uncle James Cheston, and he actually remained all day, it was a great treat to have him. He looks and seems remarkably well, and is constantly driving about and visiting. He says he is the oldest voter of our district and has only twice omitted to poll his vote. About a week or two ago he drove thirty miles in the course of the day, and a hot day too! I must say good bye with fond love to all in which all join me

Your loving Sister
