1884 October - December Galloway C. Morris incoming letters MS 1994

he returned yesterday or expects to do so to day. Harry is still suffering with rheumatism in his ancle and hip. Dr Murray came to see him yesterday and prescribed again, and there is less inflamation to day. He still hopes to be able to go ~~[illegible]~~ to Baltimore on Monday but Dr Murray told him he ought not to go unless he was much better. I do not see how we can do better than to allow the Carey's to attend to the business in Baltimore, in every respect it would seem that they would be the best, and I suspect less expensive. As regards Mr Gwinn I know Harry has no opinion of him. The Careys may have access to some papers we know nothing about as their Father is the son of the eldest brother of Aunt Margarett. With
