PIPELESS FURNACE

And at the same time we can give you a Pipeless Heater which is made of the finest material, scientifically constructed so as to give the greatest amount of heat with the least fuel and has a great many features that other ones do not have.

The Empire Pipeless Heater is made by the Co-operative Foundry Company, the manufacturers of the celebrated line of Red Cross Stoves and Ranges. This Company is a Pioneer in the Stove and Furnace business.

We give with each Empire Pipeless Heater that we install a Written Guarantee that covers everything.

Then again when you get the Empire Pipeless Furnace you are having it installed by a concern that is thoroughly acquainted with the Heating Business—a great advantage over having one installed by a canvassing agent who has had no experience in the Heating Business and who therefore does not understand the many intricate problem that arise in the Heating Game.

Of course we cannot make a house to house canvass over the County as we have other departments of our business to look after but if you are interested in having a job installed at a saving of from Ten to Twenty Five Dollars and at the same time on that is absolutely first class in every respect we would be glad to give you an estimate on what your Heating Job would cost you.

It is denied that traitors should be electrocuted, as they should merely be hanged to the nearest lamp post.

BLOOM

On last Saturday night a heavy thunder storm passed over this section and did much damage. Lightning struck and killed two hogs for Mr. Roy Kller. Fields and roads are washed considerably from the heavy rain.

We are sorry to hear of yet more sickness since last week. Mr. Jesse Bair is one on the sick list and we wish him a speedy recovery. Our community has had lots of sickness this fall.

Salem M. E. Church was visited by a large congregation on Sunday evening, and on Monday evening ended the revival services for this season. Much credit is due to our pastor, Rev. C. H. Wagner and family, and the members of the church who were able to get out for their faithful work during the meeting.

Sunday morning will be communion service at Salem M. E. Church and our pastor, Rev. C. H. Wagner, asks all who have not been taken in on preparatory membership to be present, that desire to be taken in. Everybody invited to the services.

Remember the date of the oyster supper given by the Ladies' Aid Society of Salem, Saturday, November 10, beginning at 6 P. M.

MANCHESTER

The weather was all that could be desired on Saturday and brought out a large crowd of people to the sale of Mrs. William F. Zepp, where auctioneer Gensler disposed of all the personal effects in a well equipped home that commanded good prices. The home, located on the summit of North Main street from which there is a view of both ends of the street, after spirited bidding was knocked down to Mr. David J. Brown for the sum of $2,450.

The rain and storm on Wednesday, 24th, Liberty Loan Day, as set aside by the President and the Governor of the state, was quite a disappointment to the town on account of the arrangements made for a demonstration. But the order of the teachers and scholars of the schools was not dampened but true to appointment they formed on York street and headed by the drum corps marched to Main street and paraded from one end of town to the other upon the pavements. Mr. John W. A. Atkens, chief marshal, and the teachers as assistants, were followed by quite a company of Red Cross ladies in full uniform with Mrs. C. M. Masenhimer as banner bearer. Old Glory was prominent all along the line and the patriotism of the young American's was in high G made the welkin ring with their hurrahs, while the wind was whipping their flag in all directions. But the night parade had to be abandoned which promised to be quite attractive. Chief Marshal, Dr. H. M. Keller, had his plans well arranged and would have had 75 autos in line contending for the prizes.

Mr. J. B. Lynerd, west of town, informed us that in totaling his apple crop including the early and late varieties they amounted to 450 bushels. He shipped many to Baltimore that commanded good prices; and had good sale for the fallen and small apples for cider and butter boiling and has several hundred bushels of fine picked fruit of a nummer of varieties for sale.

Mr. E. W. Gregory, of the E. W. Gregory Ice Company, enjoyed a ten days' trip among friends at Covington, Va. He was indisposed for some time from overwork during his busy season of ice and ice cream, making and cut himself loose from the plant to enjoy a trip and recruit his health, leaving the plant in the care of his employee, Mr. Raymond Leister, who measured up to the business in every detail.

Rev. D. R. Wager was nonplussed by not getting hisi household goods taken to his farm at Salisbury, Wicomico county, Md., last week. When the loading was to be done he was informed that the truck was out of commission and was being repaired. The run by way of Baltimore and Havre de Grace and then down the Eastern Shore is 205 miles. He and Mrs. W. will make the trip in their auto. In his conversation about that section he told of the peculiar way in which they get water of the finest. A section of a pipe covered with copper and perforated is fastened to a pipe 12 or 15 feet long and is then driven into the earth wherever you want a well put in a pump and you have a well that cannot be pumped dry.

After enjoying an ideal autumn day on Saturday the gathering clouds in the west broke upon us with the heaviest thunder storm of the season, with a heavy rain fall mixed with hail. And on Monday night was followed by another heavy rain fall that on Tuesday gave us the first snow of the season.

Rev. Biatt will hold communion services in the Reformed church here on Sunday morning, November 4th, at 10.30 o'clock.

States Attorney Seabrook did honor to the parade on Liberty Loan Day and towered above all others in the procession.

The services in Trinity Reformed church on Sunday evening were along Missionary lines and the members of the missionary society of the congregation had their part. Mr. Land and Miss Julia Roeder read interesting papers that had wrapped in them the great work that has been brought about by the societies of the different churches, specializing those of their home churches, all of which was endorsed by Rev. Blatt in his address that followed. The congregation entered into the spirit of singing missionary hymns.

On Saturday we met our old friend, Mrs. F. A. Diffenbach, on South Main street having just arrived and was on her way to the home of her sister, Mrs. Charles Brilhart, where she was entertained for the night, and on Sunday accompanied Mr. and Mrs. Brilhart in an auto trip to Hanover where the day was spent among friends.

Lebanon Lodge No. 175, A. F. A. M. and Pocahontas Tribe No. 157, I. O. R. M. each subscribed for a $1000 Liberty Bond.

The members of Manchester Rebekah Lodge No. 18, I. O. O. F. gave a Halloween party in the hall on Tuesday evening after the close of the lodge. All went to the lower room that was in full dress for the occasion, lit up with pumpkins lanterns, rusticitents with a large number of persons in dress from the fantastic to the ridiculous where all spent several hours in innocent amusement. Refreshments were served among which was the palatable pumpkin pie.

Before the next Liberty Loan Campaign opens it might be well to delve into the occult and see if it is possible to get in communication with Jay Cooke's spirit. He sold government bonds to carry on a war without any bonus of hysteria.
