n.d. Galloway C. Morris Incoming letters (Emily Hollingsworth) 1994

SIDE ONE

very, very much, but I am sure you say truly, dear Hannah, that "it is all right". It certainly, seems in the ordering of Providence that we should not go to Lake George, at the present time, as our Heavenly Father has permitted your dear father's increased weakness. Still, we hope, if he does improve in this fine air, (for it has proved so,) he may go on to visit you, the later part of the season. We can, only, live a day at a time. We had the pleasure of a short visit from dear Elliston. You will be gratified to learn that your god-son, James Montgomery, has just graduated at the Academy & "he got the highest average "I won the four Alumni prizes, namely, "Latin, Greek, English & Mathematics, the "pecuniary value of each is Ten dollars "but the honor is more" – so wrote his father to me, yesterday. He enters on his University examinations to-day. Your father sends his dear love to you, says he you have had no letter to Gally to-day, I will write to-day. Tell your mother the pleasure of her visit to me, & how much I desire to see you & your dear father at our new home. Cherry Cottage. Lenni June 16th

Our address is, – Care of Dr Caspar Morris. Lenni Post Office Delaware Co. Penna. Chester said, add "Cherry Cottage", but, it does not seem necessary.

Please remember me to Mrs Hayden

Dear Hannah,

Many thanks for sweet note inclosed in Gally's budget, received yesterday, and your loving invitation to me, to pay you a visit in your new Lake George home. But, dear Hannah, I cannot see much prospect of my being able to do so, as I could not leave your dear father, in his present condition with an easy mind. I am happy to say, yesterday & to-day, he
