n.d. Galloway C. Morris Incoming Letters (Emily Hollingsworth) 1994

SIDE ONE

Kind invitation to pay you a visit; Mary He adds if you could look in upon us and see how your dear father is, you would know it would be impossible for any of us to leave him. We hope soon to have Elliston with us. With best love to dear Hannah,

Your affectionately attached
Co: Emily.

My kind remembrance to the Randolph family.

My dear Galley,

Returned to Lenni last afternoon from Solitude and found your letter awaiting me. Much obliged to you for it, and am sure, you will do every thing that is necessary with respect to our relative at Winchester. What you wrote, reminded me, I had heard something from Co: Henry about a record of land transactions inquired into by some relative of mis in that region, but it
