1818-1891 Mary [Morris] Horsey

SIDE TWO

and thought there would be about one fourth of our average yield in this part of the country.
The farmers here are just cutting their grass. Two fields in sight of our window were mowed a week ago. There has been rain every day since, and the hay lies in the swarths just as it was cut. We are wearing the same clothing we did during our coldest weather last winter. and sit by fires morning evening. Your Aunt is better and drives out each day.
We expect to leave this place day after tomorrow. Your Uncle receives daily a nice letter from your cousins whose tutor is ill, and they are making a tour with their pleasants. They have been to Warwick Castle, Stratford on Avon, & are now in Scotland I see here their exercises with the tutors correction.
He has kept them very close to their work, and yet they are very much attached to him. He was taken with a hemorrhage from the lungs at Oxford where he had gone for examination for his degree It is a sore disappointment to him as it obliges him to wait another year. Your Uncle recieved a very nice letter from his father this morning. They are evidently true Christians, and submit patiently to the affliction
. I walk every day, and