but that it was a surface abcess.
He had it poulticed so as to hasten it, and promised to come again yes terday. This he did about eleven o'clock and lanced it, which relieved her very much. We still keep it poulticed and she has to keep her arm quiet.
But yesterday she had on a loose wrapper, and came down stairs to dinner and to tea. This morning she is still better and came down to breakfast, and is now in my room.
Old Margaret slept in the nursery both nights and kept the baby.
Saturday night Maynadier carried on a lively conversation &c from ~~at~~ between four and five o'clock.
Charley and Rob slept with him This morning he did not wake until half past eight. Emily practised all day Saturday or most of the day In the afternoon I insisted upon her taking a walk with the others.
They say she got along very nicely with the music, her only trouble was with the chants, which needed more prac tise with the others. She found that there was no book here with the chants and sent to ask Eddie for hers but it was also at Church, so she could not get it until the evening when Levi returned with the mail. Mr Dame urged that she should dine with them and practise in the afternoon, so she staid all day, and took tea at Sally's.
The boxes did not come from Croft and Wilburs for the S. School, so some of them had to wait for another week.
Maynadier has just come down with Em ily, bringing a letter he has just written to his Uncle Grant, to ask him to come to see him. The girls had held his hand and this is to inform him that Mrs Eddie will be here tomorrow
