1852-1854 Henry H. Harvey Incoming Letters 144

My Friend Harvey,

Very glad to find you had not forgotten me, for I had truly began to think so, but "better late than never" cannot, and proved to me, otherwise. Well Harvey I think the change you anticipate making is decidedly better for your interests, and I sincerely hope it may prove so. Miss Grinnell is at the store, — She returned Monday. She looks far better than when she left here. and says she has entirely recovered her health!

The rest of your cousins are all O.K. Mr. G. G. Grinnell, is at home sick. — we have a new boy, or rather young man. (there are no boys now) He is a son of Judge Oakley's — I cannot tell what he will make. but it is his desire to be a salesman right away. — You must excuse this, for now, and write me when you find no opportunity. All wish to be remembered to you. — Accept my thanks for your letter & believe me

Truly your friend
Oscar.
