My dear Sally

I suppose you have heard of dear Annie's severe illness & I wish to tell you about her. She has been very ill for a week past, the disease has been transferred from her limbs to her head, & for some days she has had fearful convulsions - her mind when she speaks is clear, but for the last two days she has spoken very little, and now we hope she does not suffer - for the first week the pain in her head was intense

We have been very sorry dear Sally to hear you have been such an invalid this Fall, I hope this bitter cold weather may not make your rheumatism worse -

Give my best love to the girls - I am sure you will be glad to hear we have a good energetic young clergyman at West River -

God bless you dear Sally I always love to hear from you - but know you write with so much difficulty that I dont expect a letter.

Ever fondly yours

A. L. Chester
