MEETING OF CARROLL COUNTY BRANCH OF STATE DAIRYMEN'S ASSOCIATION

The regular monthly meeting of the Carroll County branch of the State Dairymen's Association was held Saturday afternoon in Westminster. About thirty members, some from distant parts of the county, were present in spite of the rain and mud. Seven cases of the price of milk being cut were reported. These cuts were made by 2 different distributors. Cutting the price of milk was said to be in direct violation of the agreement between the producers and distributors. It showed the necessity and value of organization as the local President was instructed to further the reports to the officers of the State Association who will endeavor to adjust the matter. The producers it seems naturally do not expect the distributors to be faultless and have among them no members who cannot live up to an agreement unless that agreement is backed by a money guarantee but they do think that the distributors themselves should ferret out these individuals who cut price of milk if they wish to keep the confidence of the producers and help the dairy industry. A report that Food Administrator Baetjer, had suggested the cutting of the price of milk to twenty two cents brought a storm of denouncement. The officers saved the day by contending that this was in all proability an erroneous report and that no one in Mr. Baetjer's position could be so near sighted as to propose such a reduction after the very narrow escape the dairy industry in this state has had the past winter. The members, however, seemed to think that the report might be quite true for it was in line with other Government actions such as schemes for farm labor that have brought no results, the paying of from three to five dollars a day for labor for government work and the fixing of the price of two dollars for wheat which prevents them from paying a high price for labor. The question of maintaining an agent in Baltimore to look after the interests of the shippers was discussed and all present seem to be in favor.

A RED CROSS OPPORTUNITY

The opportunity will be presented to the members of the Red Cross, in the week of March 18th to March 25th, not only to assist in a great relief work but to demonstrate concretly to the people of this country the efficiency of the Red Cross organization.

The Commission for Relief in Belgium, through its Chairman, Herbert Hoover, has asked the assistance of the Red Cross in collecting more than five thousand tons of selected used and surplus clothing throughout the United States. The Commission's organization in many parts of the country has been given up. Therefore it has turned to the Red Cross.

There is no conflict in purpose between the Commission for Relief in Belgium and the Red Cross. Rather the reverse; what the Commission is doing for our Allies behind the German lines, the Red Cross is doing for them behind our own lines.

RED CROSS NOTES

Announcement is made of the appointment by President Wilson of George B. Case to membership in the War Council of the American Red Cross. He will take the place made vacant by the resignation of Charles D. Norton, which has been accepted by President Wilson. Mr. Norton, who is the vice president of the First National Bank of New York City, was one of the original members of the War Council and having devoted all his time since last May to Red Cross work, was forced by the pressure of his other business to resign from the War Council. He remains as a memeer of the Executive Committee.

Mr. Case has been actively associated with Red Cross affairs in Washington since the War Council was formed and, prior to his appointment to that body, had been and is now Director of the Department of Law and International Relations of the Red Cross.

Mr. Case, who is a member of the law firm of White and Case, 14 Wall Street, New York City, was born in Kansas City, 46 years ago. He was graduated from Andover in 1890; from Yale in 1894; and Columbia Law School in 1897. His home is in Englewood, New Jersey.

The War Council is now composed of the following members: Henry P. Davidson, Chairman; John D. Ryan; Harvey D. Gibson; Cornelius N. Bliss, Jr.; and George B. Case. Ex officio members are William H. Taft and Elliot Wadsworth.

ONLY A VOLUNTEER

Why didn't I wait to be drafted
And be led to the train by a band
Or out on a claim for exemption?
Oh, why, did I hold up my hand?
Why didn't I wait for the banquet,
Why didn't I wait to be cheered?
For the drafted men get the credit,
While I merely volunteered!

And nobody gave me a banquet,
Nobody said a kind word.
The puff of the engine, the grind of the wheels
Was all the good-bye I heard.
Then off to the training camp hustled
To be drilled for the next half-year,
And in the shuffle forgotten—
For I'm only a volunteer!

And perhaps, some day in the future,
When a little boy sits on my knee,
And asks what I did in the great war,
And his eyes look up at me,
I will have to look back into those eyes
That at me so trustingly peer,
And confess that I wasn't drafted
That I was only a volunteer!

The Germans of course still consider the Americans as a negligible factor in the war, as Kaiser Bill has told them we are merely coming to see the country and inspect the ruins.

In order that this work may not become a regular activity of the Red Cross, or be considered a precedent for a continual collection of such articles, the week of March 18th to March 25th only will be devoted to this purpose.

INTERESTING MEETING AT OPERA HOUSE

In the Opera House, Westminster, Tuesday, March 21 at 7.30 will be held a meeting of unusual interest. The speaker will be Mr. C. T. Williams, of The Fidelity Trust Company, Baltimore, was Secretary and Treasurer of the American Red Cross Mission to Roumania—an expedition sent out by the American National Red Cross from Washington last July to afford practical relief to the suffering Roumanians, and also to investigate and report upon the conditions in tha country.

This Mission, which was composed of eight men prominent in their respective lines, carried with it fifteen physicians and fifteen nurses. They traveled to Roumania via the Pacific. Coincident with the departure of the Mission for Roumania the American Red Cross fitted out a shipload of supplies which left New York in August, crossing the Atlantic and arriving at Archangel. It was planned that the Mission should get in touch with these supplies in Archangel, take them down to Roumania, and supervise the administration of relief to the suffering population, and establish American Red Cross Base Hospitals in Roumania. From Russia the Mission and the Medical and Nurses Unit proceeded to Roumania. Captain Williams was detached from the Mission in Moscow, and proceeded to Archangel, where he met the ship and conveyed the supplies on a twenty-day journey through to Roumania.

The Mission was successful in establishing hospitals, and both the Doctors and Nurses' Unit is still in uncertain conditions in that country, Roumania, and notwithstanding the uncertain conditions in that country, are, according to cables received a few days ago, all well and doing excellent work.

On the return trip Mr. Williams left Petrograd December 6th, and arrived via the Atlantic, the first of January.

Mr. Williams' talk will throw many side-lights upon the actual conditions in Russia and Roumania, and he will also give a first-hand account of the exact situation in Roumania as observed by him, and by the other members of the Mission.

MEDFORD GRANGE MEETING

In giving the degrees the Grange did not have time to finish discussion on "Cooperation", which will be taken up later. The subject for discussion is "How are the Farmers going to harvest their Wheat Crops". A most delightful evening was spent with delicious refreshments, and it was nearing the midnight hour when all bid goodnight to the host and hostess, to meet at Mr. D. A. Smith's, March 20, 1918.

MARINE NOTES

In every United States Marine officer's scabbard rests a testimonial of the American sea soldiers' valiant participation in ridding the world of the old Barbary pirate nests.

The Marine's scimitar, with its curved blade and Mameluke grip hilt, was adopted from the knife surrendered by the pirate chief at the time the historic frigate Philadelphia crushed the Tripolitan brigands. Swords in other branches of America's fighting forces are adaptations of the old Roman blade.
