(this was written after the birth of the Maguders daughter Francina Sedley Maguder)

"Mary says she does not know how to account for her & Mr. Maguder's devotion to their little daughter, for they caress it as much as they did Mary Marila – unless it is the fascinating power attached to that name, so dear to us all. I confess I feel its power – & so you may have perceived it in your Father altho he has always argued on the injustice that was often done in families."

One of the deeds to Rokeby (in 1781) signed by Joseph Galloway is witnessed by Ann Chester, Jr. & by Francina Augustina Chester.
