150,000 ILL IN MADRID

The epidemic which is sweeping over Spain, a disease which somewhat resembles grip, is increasing in severity.

There are more than 150,000 cases in Madrid. The mortality continues low.

King Alfonso is still in bed with the malady, but his condition is not dangerous.

The disease is affecting horses, cases being reported from the cavalry and the public service. The population believe the disease was brought to Spain by German submarines, as there are cases among crews of interned underwater boats.
