This tankard, made by Philip Syng (Sr or Jr?) was given in 1881 to my mother Mary Hollingsworth (Morris) Murray on her silver wedding anniversary —

The donor was Cousin Emily Hollingsworth only child of Paschall Hollingsworth, brother of Mary the wife of Israel Hitchcock Morris (son of Capt Sam) —

Cousin Emily's mother had been Mary Wilson daughter of Judge James Wilson, a signer of the Declaration, one of the drafters of the Constitution and ~~Associate~~ a Judge of the Supreme Court —

We have no documentary evidence whether the tankard came to her from her Hollingsworth or Wilson grandparents, but think it was most probably from Judge Wilson —

Also mentions that "Richd Talbott hath consented to defer the sale of his land until the Spring" —

This land is what is now known as "Tulip Hill" (formerly called "Poplar Spring" or "Poplar Knoll") and in Samuel Galloway's Acct Book under date of April 1756 is the entry in the Acct of John Deavourt

By making and laying in my house 124/938 bricks @ 20/	124.18.9
By making 18 on Bricks @ 4/ as per agreement	3.16.—
By Stonet work	1. 5.—
