Children's Corner

Ocean Grove, N. J., 1918.

Dear Children:

Now what do you think? Wednesday evening my cousins and myself were sitting on one of the benches, watching some of the evening bathers, about seven P. M., when we happened to look up in time to see Henry K., his mother and grand-mother. They came over and we had an old school chat. Henry looked a little tired but he was getting ready for the Carousel ride. I told him, someday if he had time from the water and sandforts, he and I would take a boat ride. Yesterday evening we saw another big dirigible air ship patrolling. Today, a new make of plane came over that made noise enough to scare the U boats on a dive. Wednesday, a young mother, who owns a cottage very near us, ran off and left her little only child, a girl and her husband. I saw the husband's auto out to hunt her, he fears his wife has drowned herself as she had been sick, when she left. Best wishes for you all. I wish you were all here with me.

Josie Visits Dora

When Josephine reached Dora's house she was surprised to see Dora knitting. Dora took her little friend to the playroom and there they both sat down.

"Josie", she said "as soon as I finish my doll's sweather I will start a club. Will you join?"

"Oh, Yes!"

"We will knit for the sailors and soldiers. I will get the wool to supply our club from the Red Cross Headquarters."

"I can finish my sweater some time tomorrow evening" said Josie.

"We'll start our club some time Thursday. I want you to get five girls to join and I will get the other five" said Dora.

"Dora, I will have to tell them when we will have our first meeting."

"Let's have it Thursday at three o'clock. Let me see all you have finished knitting." said Dora.

Josie lifted up her arms to let Dora see all she had finished.

Dora said "Josie you ought to start the neck already." "I don't know how" was the response.

"Mother will start it for you. Oh: here she comes now." "Mrs. Johnson will you start the neck for my dolls sweater."

"Yes," said Mrs. Johnson and she took the knitting from the little girls hand.

By the time Josie went home her sweater was almost done.

Relief For Destitute Greeks

Plans have been made by the American Red Cross Commission to Serbia for the relief of the Greek population in the territory now being administered by that commission. The plans have been approved by Consul-General Horton of Saloniki, who has stated that the Greek civilian population is in destitute circumstances owing to the general mobilization.

In confirmity with the plans the War Council has appropriated the sum of $165,087 for the purchase monthly for a period of three months, 320 tons of foodstuffs and ten tons of soap. These monthly shipments of supplies are for relief purposes in the Saloniki sections, and will not be used in old Greece.

UNION MILLS

Following the meeting of the Council of Defense, at Alumni Hall Westminster, last Saturday afternoon, a delegation of about forty representative citizens of Myers district were granted an audience by governor Harrington, during which the claims of the district regarding the improvement of the Reisterstown turnpike from Westminster to the Pennsylvania line were ernestly and emphatically brought to the governor's attention, in the hope that state aid, in some way, shape or form might soon make itself felt on thie particular piece of road which is almost impassable in its present deplorable condition. The governor received the delegation kindly, and while he would make no promises, it is believed that the meeting will to some degree help along the good cause.

His Eminence Cardinal Gibbons, and Bishop o'Connell after being entertained ten days or two weeks by Robert T. and Miss Mary O. Shriver, returned to their homes last Monday As has been noted, the cardinal passed his 84th birthday on the 23rd of July. On the morning of that day he said mass in the chapel at the Shriver residence, after which with his friend, the bishop he took his customany walk of several miles over the quiet and picturesque roads of the surrounding neighborhood. After a dinner given in his honor, to which only the immediate members of the family of the host and hostess were invited, his eminence granted interview to representatives of the Baltimore American, and the Sun, and several group photographs were also taken by a city photographer. The cardinal is a frequent and honored visitor at the Shriver homes, here, the comforts and seclusion of which he greatly enjoys. For one of his advanced age he is in the enjoyment of excellent health, which has been conserved by his well-known habits of regularity and simplicity. He is a hard worker and performs earnestly and faithfully all the duties of his high office. May his life he spared for the enjoyment of many more birthdays anniversaries.

IN MEMORIAM

Nugen—In sad, but loving remembrance of our dear son, Columbus O. Nugen, who departed this life 5 years ago today, July 28, 1913.

The last farewell words were spoken
Five years ago today;
My heart was crushed and broekn,
When dear Columbus passed away.

If you was only here, dear son,
Our joys would be complete;
For you always had a smiling face
For every one you would meet.

A faithful son and brother, dear,
But God took you away from us,
Just in your youth and brightest hours,
But God's will be done, not ours.

Oh, how sad are our hearts to day,
While thinking of the past,
And of the happy hours
That were too bright to last.

All your loved ones dear Columbus,
Have not forgotten you;
Your father and mother are still lonely,
And your dear sisters and brothers, too.

By his loving mother,
Catherine Nugen.

Send Remittances To Local Chapters

All remittances of checks or money, covering pledges, should be sent directly to local chapter headquarters.

Checks, currency and post-office money orders, covering pledges, are arriving at National headquarters at the rate of over one thousand a day. These remittances have to be sorted and returned to the chapters to which they belong, requiring a great deal of time on the part of the clerks. The remittance is delayed in reaching chapter headquarters and causes more or less confusion.

Checks should be made payable directly to chapters or to the Second Red Cross War Fund, and mailed to chapter headquarters in the city or town in which the pledge was made payable. Persons making remittances should always state whether the remittance covers a pledge or a donation.
