Home Cards to be Distributed December 1

Bcause of the epidemic of Spanish influenza throughout the country, the United States Food Administration has postponed the distribution of its new Home Card until December 1. The original plan contemplated the opening of this campaign October 27. However, the new conservation program, which is considered vital, will be pushed uninterruptedly.

Meetings of all kinds having been banned on account of the epidemic, the aid of the churches, the schools, the four-minute-speakers, (libraries, lodges, and patriotic workers could not be secured for the strenuous campaign in the planning of which they were essential parts. It is hoped that by December 1, necessity for quarantined, conditions will have disappeared.

Preparatory to the issuance of 20, 000,000 home cards on that date, the Food Administration will have perfected, through the cooperation of the Federal Food Administrators throughout the country a plan of distribution, which it is anticipated will result in the placing of home cards bearing the latest suggestions of the Food Administration in the hands of every American housewife simultaneously.

Disregarding the precedent set in the first Home Card Distribution, the Food Administration will make no effort to re-duplicate the pledges of more than twelve million American housewives who last year signified their willingness to co-operate in the conservation of all foodstuffs, as it is apparent that American womanhood will aid the Food Administration in helping to supply the nutritive sinews of war to the Allies and our armed forces.

The new Home Card will contain no regulations regarding either "wheatless" or "Meatless" days, but will urge as a whole, the most careful saving in all edibles, particularly in the conservation of wheat, meat, fats and sugar. The significant fact that it will be necessary for the United States to send 5 3-4 million tons more foodstuffs to the Allies this year than last, with an almost staggering total of 17 1-2 million tons for the coming year will re-waken the supervisor of the family market basket, to the urgent necessity of maintaining a patriotic watchfulness over the spread of her individual table in order that the 120,000,000 Allies sitting at a "common table" with American may have the stamina with which to bring the war to a successful conclusion in 1918.

Silage Solves Winter Feed Problem

With silage in the ration, dairy cattle can be kept in the condition of health common to animals on pasture. The digestive system of a cow is well suited for the utilization of large quantities of green grasses and other coarse succulent material. Silage is palatable, and no other feed will combine so well with dry hay and a little grain to produce maximum, economical results.

The preservation of the mature corn crop or the saving of one which for any reason must be harvested before maturity by placing it in silos is deservedly increasing in popularity. About 40 per cent of the total food material in the corn plant is in the stalks and leaves. When only the ears are harvested nearly one-half of the crop is lost; on the other hand when the crop is put into the silo the losses are very small. When drought, frost, or insects attack a field of corn before it is ripe the crop may be lost unless a silo is at hand in which to preserve it.

No feed crops can be so successfully harvested under widely varying conditions as those that are put into the silo. Only in case of dought or frost is it necessary to rush the filling of the silo; rain or dew on the forage does not injure the silage.

Order Your Fertilizer Now For Spring Seeding

The Government needs a certain number of cars to carry the necessary food and munitions to the seaports and cantonments for one soldiers. This steady stream of ours must not be interrupted and will not be, because the soldiers must be supplied first, before space can be given to the transportation of other commodities. Another factor which must be considered and that is the labor supply in the fertilizer factories. In prewar times they could secure labor when needed for the rush season; it is different now. A limited labor supply means a uniform and limited output. The fertilizer factories do not have space to store this uniform output until the rush season. If they had, the farmer could not get his fertilizer when he needs it because of the car shortage.

Put in your order now, then you will have your fertilizer when you need it.

The Germans think the way to prove that they sincerely want peace and good will among nations, is to keep on committing worse and worse outrages.

Peace without victory would be like a bankrupt's promissory note without signature or collateral.

When the Huns need a week or two to reorganize their forces and bring up more artillery, they put out peace offes, accept our terms, and do the brotherly love act.

Also the draft boards are likely to rule that the President is engaged in a non-essential industry when he is composing communications to the Hun government.

Among those who complain because business is hurt by influenza, are the restaurant and lunch room people who spread the epidemic by lack of sanitary dish washing.
