Murray family letters 1894

asked Mr: Brant to send it, the express to be paid your side, thought that would be more convenient. I only arrived in Baltimore yesterday evening & have not been out at all, but expect every one will be in a state of excitement over the Oriole next week, it is to be hoped it will be cooler than at present. If you stop in Baltimore on your way to Philadelphia I hope you will let me know so that I can come and see you, my direction is 236 W. Hoffman St. with love to you all (not forgetting Miss Alice if she is with you) in which mama & papa join me, believe

She says we ought to be very careful how we speak on religious subjects its is such a solemn thing to do & ought only to be with the help of the Spirit & prayer that we may not say too much or leave unsaid - I have resolved to avoid its in future as far as I can & really wonder that I have often been led to speak so inconsiderately - I like so very much Mrs F's views of the direct leading of the Spirit & wants be a sweet life. winds it. not just to listen to Gods voice & obey it like a little child throwing off all the care & responsibility
