Murray family letters 1914 benefit of many of the lands - One division of Soldiers came by with helmets on, which were loudly cheered, and we could not imagine what they were, they looked like foreigners; Pat had seen some of them down town yesterday and said they were talking French - but they were in khaki and the French uniform is a light blue - The papers this evening said that there were 250 Belgians in the parade, so those must have been the men we could not place - I went down to the workroom this afternoon, I suppose we had about thirty persons in all - To-day has been cloudy and really quite cool.

It is late so I must stop and go to bed - Lots of love
