Manchester Celebration

FROM OUR CORRESPONDENT

The "Home Coming" festivity and Whit Monday celebration opened on Saturday 7th, with full accomodations to meet pleasure, and amusements of the crowds, with the latchstrings hanging out to welcome the "home comers' and friends were in full swing by 3 P. M. when Chief Marshals C. V. Lippy and Sterling Brown called their aids to their stations and the line of parade was formed on York street led by the P. O. S. of A. from Hanover, followed by members of Pochontas Tribe of Red Men; the Manchester Drum Corps with members of Daniel and Jacob Lodge No. 23 I. O. O. F., next in line, the Mayor and Common Council of Manchester in automobile; while Wild West with their prancing ponies brought up the rear marching through Main street and returning to the grounds in full swing for cooling drinks. By evening there was quite a crowd upon the ground that was lighted by the Delco and Genco Lighting companies making a fine display for the pleasure of the crowds as they swayed back and forth in full enjoyment of the surroundings. At 2 P M. Sunday, the members of the Hampstead and Alesia Lodges P. S. O. A. members of Daniel and Jacob Lodge No. 23 I. O. O. F., Pocahontas Tribe of Red Men with boys from "Over Sea" in uniform and firemen formed in line on South Main street and marched to the grounds where Memorial services were held. At the call on the piano by Mrs. W. W. Wentz the large audience arose and sang America. Chairman John C. Keck introduced Mr. Washington C. Wachter of Baltimore, who addressed the audience. The choir sang Maryland My Maryland, when Rev. Hafer of Taneytown was introducted and delivered an interesting address along the lines of memorial occasions with an appreciative eulogy on the boys from overseas. Then Dr. Littleton of Baltimore who has upon many occasions been here as orator for the Red Men was introduced and soon had the large audience spellbound in his address with plenty of fraternity for the lodges and the highest praise for the boys from oversea and an extra bound for the Red Cross. The audience arose and sang God be with us 'till we meet again. The line of march was taken up with the band and drum corps to the cemetery where the graves of the deceased members were decorated. All returned to the Reformed cemetery where the monument erected in memory of George P. Frankforter, Company E. 115 Infantry A. E. F. (Feb. 17, 1895, Nov. 18, 1918) who died from wounds he received in the Argonne, the oversea boys were grouped around the monument, the choir sang Star Spangled Banner and Rev. Hafer delivered the address, it being 3-45 and a coming storm from the west scattered the crowd to shelter and gave us quite a pour-down. The community service that was to be held on the ground at 7.30 was held in the Lutheran church and was largely attended. The music was fine and rendered by the members of both the Lutheran and Reformed choirs with Rev. Young and Rev. Nicely from Hanover who delivered the sermon from Phil. 1-21 first clause; the quartette Messrs. Loats, Hoffacker, Lippy and Burgoon was fine. A light rain continued during the night and Monday morning was damp and foggy rather threatening until near noon when the skies began to clear and the crowds began to arrive so that by 2 P. M. the grounds and the streets were crowded. The parade of the members of the Red Cross of the district was headed by the Marshals and their aids; the Westminster and Hampstead firemen with their fine outfits; the Red Cross carrying a large flag; the firemen and wild west were in line. The Alesia Band and the drum corps furnished the music. By the return of the parade the crowd on and around the grounds was from 3 to 4 thousand, everybody happy, enjoying the jam and elbowing on all sides; at 5 P. M. the ballon made a fine ascent sailing N. W. and the balloonist cut loose and landed near the north limits of the town. The Delco and Genco light men, the auto men, people with their displays were kept busy while the fakirs and others had their share of the business. Fine meals were served and well patronized while the sale stands and "Country Store" were busy until late at night. Dancing was enjoyed on the large platform, music by the Westminster orchestra. On Tuesday, though somewhat dull in the morning, by 2 P. M. the attendance was large and a parade of Marshals and riders automobiles with the Conway Band of Hampstead and the drum corps paraded Main street to the grounds where the crowd enjoyed the afternoon in fun making and meeting and greeting friends. At 4.45 the balloon made an ascent sailing west across Main street, when the balloonist cut loose and landed on a roof at the home of Miss Mary Masenhimer from which he fell to the ground without any injury. By night fall the crowd had increased many fold that enjoyed the break-up of the festal occasion, during which there was no accident nor disturbance to claim the attention of the officers. Ballyiff Gensler and alds are to be congratulated for the way they handled the auto affair in parking them along the pavements.

Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Hoffacker, Mr. Wm. Rhodes and family, Mr. and Mrs. Tice Hann and daughter of Hanover Mr and Mrs. Joe Motter, Mrs. Cass. Mrs. A. H. Geiselman, Mrs. Charles Shaffer, Mr. Archy Menchey and family, Mrs. Simpson, Rev. Lau, of Baltimore, Mr. and Mrs. F. A. Diffenbach, Mrs. Geo. E. Lippy, Mrs. F. H. Herr, of Westminster, Mr. and Mrs. Ross Blocher of Hampden Roads, Va., Mrs. Shenberger, York, were here to enjoy the affair.

Mrs. Sharer of Baltimore county is a guest of her daughter Mrs. Wm. L. Hoffman.

Ralph Yingling is home in citizens clothes.

Mrs. Emory Berwager was brought home from the hospital on Tuesday convalescing.

Dr. C. R. League was taken to the U. P. I. hospital on Sunday.

On Monday in the absence of an orator to address the great crowd after the parade the committee invited our old friend J. H. Mitten who in his uusal friendly way delivered a short address along the lines of the old soldiers, those of 1861 to 1865, who met the call and went forth to uphold the integrity of our government and with their blood upon many battle fields united this confederacy making it the home of the brave and the land of the free.

In conclusion, we would say that the committees, the citizens in general, have much to be thankful for; during the week previous dry hot and dusty weather were discouraging for the celebration; but the weather conditions were fine with fine showers of rain, the dust was laid with the evenings cool and pleasant, making the affair a success socially and we hope financially. The citizens and friends were liberal in their donations and help in the construction of the booths &c, for the comfort of all.

MARKET TO OPEN TO-MORROW

The women of Westminster have long wanted a market. At last through the courtesy of the firemen of this city we have secured a temporary place in the Firemen's yard. This market will be open Saturdays beginning this Saturday, June 14th from 7 to 9 A. M. This ought to be a great advantage to the farmers as well as the town people. A great deal of time and energy will be saved by the farmers and every woman will be given an equ to secure fresh fruits and vegetables. We hope the farmers will also bring in butter, eggs, poultry, cottage cheese, preserves, jellies, pickles and etc. No charge will be made for stalls.

Will not the farmers around Westminster boost their own community by selling in Westminster rather than selling to the truckers who carry everything to Baltimore making it impossible for the women in this community to secure such produce? We hope later on in the fall that a building may be secured and the market be made a permanent institution. Any individual or organization can sell their produce. The community has long needed such a market and let us do our best to support it.
