RED CROSS SUNDAY

Sunday November 2 will be observed throughout the United States and possessions as Red Cross Sunday when special church services and public mass meetings will usher in the Third Red Cross Roll Call, the annual membership campaign by which the organization will seek to maintain for the problems of peace the strength and effectiveness it attained in the war. Clergymen of all faiths will devote at least a part of their sermons to the development of the American Red Cross to its position as the largest humanitarian agency in the world and the importance of preserving its membership to millions for the complete realization of the health promotion and disease prevention program it has set as its task. In the afternoon and evening, in communities large and small, speakers of national prominence will address mass meetings on the history and future of the Red Cross, the story of the achievements of which will also be told by motion pictures.

The actual campaign will get under way Monday morning when volunteer workers in every community will begin the enrollment of dollar members for 1920. There will be a house-to-house canvass all week, supplemented by committees working in the business and factory districts of the towns and cities, but as the campaign draws to its close, Armistice Day, November 11, women workers and demobolized service men will conduct an intensified street canvass for members, inviting all without 1920 membership buttons to join or renew their support of the Red Cross.

One of the features of the impending campaign will be the appearance as Red Cross workers of veterans of the World War, who as individuals and members of the American Legion have volunteered in large numbers to help the organization that meant so much to them wherever they went in the war. In many places in addition to canvassing for members the veterans will address gatherings of citizens and give first hand accounts of what the Red Cross accomplished for the soldiers, sailors and marines as the official volunteer relief of the Army and Navy.

WORD FROM HOME

Statements That May be Investigated. Testimony of Westminster Citizen.

When a Westminster citizen comes to the front, telling his friends and neighbors of his experience, you can rely on his sincerity. The statements of people residing in far away places do not command your confidence. Home endorsement is the kind that backs Doan's Kidney Pills. Such testimony is convincing. Investigation proves it true. Below is a statement of a Westminster resident. No stronger proof of merit can be had.

E. L. Hollenbaugh, 6 Pennsylvania Ave., says: "Through exposure, due to my work, I had kidney trouble. I was in such bad shape I couldn't bend over. The kidney secretions at times were scanty and then profuse, disturbing my rest at night. I was so bad at times I couldn't move. Altogether I used about two boxes of Doan's Kidney Pills, procured at the Shaw Drug Co. and found wonderful relief."

Price 60c, at all dealers. Don't simply ask for a kidney remedy—get Doan's Kidney Pills—the same that Mr. Hollenbaugh had. Foster-Milburn Co., Mfgrs., Buffalo, N. Y.
