A BRIEF REVIEW OF TELEPHONE FACTS

IN A NUMBER OF ADVERTISEMENTS appearing in this and other newspapers we have endeavored to make clear our reasons for asking the Public Service Commission for an increase in telephone rates throughout the State of Maryland. Briefly summarized, these statements have covered the following points:

1.—INCREASED COSTS have seriously affected us. During 1919 we did not even earn enough to pay our operating expenses and interest charges.

2.—INSUFFICIENT REVENUES mean that a public utility cannot fulfill its obligations, first, to serve the public and serve it well; and second, to earn a fair return. We have undertaken these obligations and must not neglect them.

3.—SALARIES AND WAGES, our largest single item of expense, have greatly increased. Since 1915 the average wage paid our employees has increased 77 per cent.

4.—TELEPHONE MATERIALS, our second largest expense, have sharply increased in cost. Since 1914 the average cost of materials has gone up 90 per cent.

5.—TELEPHONE RATES, conforming to an unchangeable law of trade, are governed always by the cost of producing telephone service. While a private industry might raise prices or suspend operations until conditions become more nearly normal, a public-serving company must continue doing business at rates approved by the proper authorities.

6.—ALTHOUGH RATE INCREASES were made effective some months ago, these rates have not proved adequate because they were based on an anticipated drop in costs. Instead of decreasing, costs have risen.

ASSUMING THAT OUR VALUATION of the company's property is fair and that our management is economical and efficient, both of which we are prepared to prove, we believe that the public will endorse our effort to earn a fair return on our investment. This is all we are asking in our petition for higher rates now pending before the Public Service Commission.

No-tipping hotels are becoming more common in Europe, but in this country the landlord sees no reason why the guests should not pay his help's wages if they want to.

WOMEN VOTERS HAILED BY WOOD

Their Advent in Politics Will Bring Wholesome Effect, He Believes.

Leonard Wood has welcomed heartily the advent of women to active participation in our political life. He has been impressed, in the course of a career that has shown him many varied phases of the modern widening of woman's influence, that the coming of the so called gentler sex into public affairs is a gain for civilization and will result in renewed hope for the world at large. Wood has endeared himself to American women for his humanitarian achievements in various fields of endeavor, in which he was enabled to bring vastly improved conditions to the homes, schools, hospitals and charitable institutions under his influence.

In connection with this subject Wood says:

"Women are bringing an elevating influence into public life that will tend to correct many of the evils to which our present unrest is due. One of the reasons for the growth of undesirable tendencies in our country has been the regretable fact that countless men, qualified by education and character for public service, have wantonly neglected their civic duties.

"With the coming of women to the polls, these men will be ashamed to disregard the political duties they formerly shirked. A man who spends election day at his club while his wife was at the polls is sure to forfeit the respect of the community.

"I believe woman suffrage will have a vast and uplifting effect upon our national life. Public morality will be increased, housing conditions improved, the problems of child labor satisfactorily solved, sweat-shop evils minimized and the training given to children in our schools purged of its present defects.

"Our women must take up the question of the social evil. To that and to other of our vital problems they now come with the power of the ballot. Women realize that our American civilization can never be what it should be until we give as much care to the upbringing of our children as we do to the breeding of our cattle.

Women's Great War Service.

"In short, the difficulties that apparently beset our national future would confront us as immensely more insuperable if we could not look forward to overcoming them through the assistance of voting women. The granting of suffrage to women gives us the promise of an amazingly better world in the years to come.

"There is one field into which the women are coming that can be called the big field. It is the field of national politics. Personally, having seen what the women did during the war, both at home and abroad, I feel very confident that the entrance of American women into the field of American politics is going to have a very helpful and good influence. I think they are going to bring a healthy influence, one which will make our politics cleaner and introduce a better spirit into the political field.

"We have reason to be proud of the American women during the war. I do not know of any part of the country where American women did not take hold of the situation with keen energy. I know from personal experiences in the Middle West and neighboring states the women did everything humanly possible to send our men overseas sound in body and clean in soul. They looked after the men in the towns near the camps; they maintained excellent conditions of public morality; they looked after the men when they were en route to the sea; they were at the ports of embarkation to give the last help they could give, and when the men arrived on the other side they found American women scattered at various points of activity from the ports of debarkation up to the fighting line. We found the women of the Red Cross, the women of the Salvation Army and others actually in the battle area doing work. In fact, the work of women in all kinds of war activities was wonderful."

ORGANIZED LABOR STRONG FOR WOOD

New York.—Organized labor is lining up strong in support of General Wood's candidacy for the nomination for President on the Republican ticket.

Three of the leading labor journals of the United States have come out unqualifiedly for General Wood and are urging working men throughout the nation to back him as "labor's true friend."

Carl Young, president of the Michigan State Federation of Labor, says: "The working men saw through the efforts of the Democratic administration to kill General Wood politically by assigning him to cities where there were labor troubles, hoping and believing the friendship of labor would thus be alienated. Instead of losing the friendship of labor, General Wood increased his already high standing with the working men by his frankness, fearlessness, and fairness, and has the support of the best element in the ranks of American toilers in the contest for the Republican nomination."

The strong endorsements from the labor papers in Flint, Michigan, Chicago and Buffalo, together with President Young's statement should be sufficient answer to the question "How is labor going to stand on Wood?"
