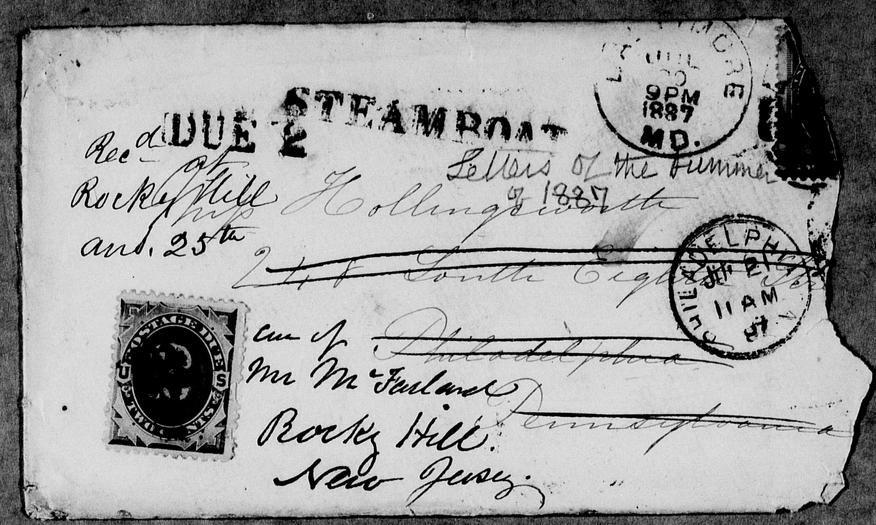
1887 Emily Hollingsworth Incoming Mail 1884



comfortable to day, and as to the baby the change in her is wonderful. We have had a very hot spell of weather, but feel very thankful for the change to day! altho it is almost too damp. I suppose dear Cousin that you have gone to Rocky Hill and I trust you will find it a delightful resting place for mind and body - I know how much you will enjoy being with Mrs Beach I enter most fully dear Cousin into your feelings as regards your going to her instead of trying Virginia, and fully appreciate the love and thoughtfulness of your own dear heart, in sending the check to me - but dear Cousin we do not need it now and cannot allow you to deprive yourself of comforts as I know you are doing so as to help us. Now dear Cousin I will try to go into a few more particulars if my head will keep clear enough The last week has been a very trying one - between the anxiety and responsibility of what was best to do for the baby - the heat - the thought over plans for Deedie & Charley the other two sick children &c &c it has kept the whole family busy, but our duties seem to be made plain by degrees to us for the present at any rate. I told the girls on Monday that if I had time I would think myself sick, but never realized that it was quinine that I needed - and yesterday I had another slight chill and fever - I have taken quinine and feel dazed to day - but shall soon be all right. Last week we