1889-1889, n.d. Emily Hollingsworth Wyoming, Ohio

SIDE TWO

of the break - but we all feel that for the present all we can do is to wait! Charley has secured a room for her with a Mrs Irons for two months It is just two miles from the tract and that will be very convenient for him - I hope it may be a comfortable place - it is a brick house and he thinks it will be all right. He says that he feels so well when he is there that he feels equal to any amount of work and that makes it seem so much harder to have to leave his work here for others to attend to, but that he has the consciousness that the sun would upset him if here. He was just about to go to the Union Springs to look after the Cabins of which a good many were occupied now - by the farmers in the neighbourhood who had waited to get their crops in before leaving home. Mr Rowell found the water did not suit him so he ~~has~~ came home quite sick, we hear that he expected to go to Oakland to day. He said that he had gone far enough with the Survey to find that the manganese &c was on your tract but from Charleys account it is on what Loose has an interest. We suppose, since reading over the letters that Roller had parted with this fifth of that tract to Loose - and that that is the 1760 acres - so that Loose is the only one having an interest in that tract. Is this your remembrance of the transaction? He seems to have exchanged his fifth for land in Illinois and to have been anxious that you should do the same. It certainly is very strange that he does not answer your letters the only way that I can account for it, is, that he may be trying to arrange to get back his interest in this Loose tract for I suspect that he knows that