a visit to Aunt Sally and Sally, they enquire very particularly for you at both houses Mary is very nicely fixed indeed the house altho small is very complete, and plenty large enough - and very comfortable. The view is a magnificent one. Every thing in the house is very nice and comfortable - Mr Walton is still there and they are very much pleased with him.

We found the sleighing very good altho there is very little snow but the sleet has frozen on the ground, so that it is like glass - the wind was high this afternoon, but it was on our backs so we did not mind it. I suppose that you may have seen the girls to day, I am sorry that the weather is so very cold for them at the first of their visit, and hope they will not take cold. It is very nice for you to have Rebe with you for a week, and I hope the change will be of service to her. Tell Emily of Mrs and Miss Brown being at the Colonade, she would I expect like to go to see them. Did you hear that Jesse Tyson's wedding did take place just before the funeral? It was quite unfortunate that the bride should have such a gloomy commencement of her married life. Thank you very much dear Cousin for giving Mr Effingham's opinion of the big guna matters - when Harry comes home I will talk it over with him, and see what he thinks we had better do.

Charley says that all the old records &c in Virginia were burned, but Uncle Wister may know what was on the original patent to Levi Hollingsworth. We will all agreed that the paper between Roller and myself ought to be as simple and concise as possible, so when we draw it up, that is the course we shall pursue about it. I do not know whether I wrote to you
