General News.

The trial of of Major Medberry, of Buffalo, for resisting the United States officers in taking from him about 7000 dollars worth of highwines on a charge of having smuggled the same to avoid payment of duties, and which occasioned considerable excitement some months ago, has just been concluded before the United States Court in that city, the jury finding in favor of the defendant. The ground taken by the defense was, that the officers had no sufficient reason to suspect that the wines were smuggled, and that their conduct was harsh and unjustifiable, and gave the defendant a right to resist to the extent he did. The jury were of this opinion, and hence their verdict.

Major W. N. McIntire of the United States Army was arrested a few days ago in Louisville, Kentucky, by a Government detective, and taken to Washington, on a charge of having defrauded the Government out of a large sum of money. The Louisville papers announcing the arrest were unable to learn any of the paticulars in regard to the matter, beyond what is above given.

Another extensive robbery is announced in the Iowa papers. A dispatch received at Dubuque announces that the safe of the American Express Company at Waverly, in that State, had been broken open and robbed of its contents. The safe was found to have been drilled, powder inserted, and the door blown off, in the same way that the robbing at Eldora was effected. The amount of booty obtained by the robbery is not stated, although it is supposed to be large, as Waverly is an extensive receiving and distributing point, and the agent of the company was engaged in business which brought large amounts of money into his hands, which were probably deposited in the Company's safe. This is the third extensive robbery chronicled in Iowa in the last week or two.

It is said that the President contemplates a visit to Wilmington, Charleston and other Southern ports, before the meeting of Congress, if the pressure of official duties does not prevent.

The war debt of Alabama, which the Convention sitting at Montgomery has refused to repudiate, amounts to two millions of dollars. It is held by citizens of that State, and forms no part of the Confederate debt proper.

John Rosecrans, a brother of General W. S. Rosecrans, is the Democratic nominee for Representative in Marion county, Ohio. He is opposed to consolidation, an immediate Union man, and pledges himself to resist negro suffrage now or at all other times.

Upward of seventeen thousand bales of cotton now find their way to the Mobile market every week.

The National Bank of Concord, Massachusetts, was entered between half past one and two o'clock Tuesday afternoon, while the cashier was was at dinner, and robbed of three hundred thousand dollars in money and United States bonds.

The investigation into the charges preferred against the Mayor, Controller, City Inspector, Recorder and Corporation Counsel of New York City was commenced on Tuesday last before the Executive Commission, at Albany.

The charges and specifications against the several respondents were read and their answers put in. That of the Mayor, with the official testimony laid before the commission, was considered a complete vindication of his official acts in the matters complained of, and was so pronounced by Judge Emmet—the Governor's counsel.

The steamer Rip Van Winkle stove a hole in her hull on Tuesday morning last, when opposite the ferry slip at Troy, by coming in contact, as was supposed, with a quantity of sunken iron, and sunk to her guards soon after reaching the wharf. All the passengers, bagagge and freight were safely removed.

The store of Freeman & Son of Salem, Washington County, was burglariously entered on Monday night, and the safe robbed, by blowing off the door, of some seventeen hundred dollars. The burglar was captured the next morning, and the stolen property recovered.

On Friday last a woman named Isabella Ould shot and badly wounded a man in Richmond. She asked and received his forgiveness. The cause of the act was that she asked him to marry her and he refused.

The Post Office Depsrtment has issued a circular for the enforcement of the legal penalties for carrying unstamped letters on routes outside the regular mails.

The Georgia papers state that the order which required all ladies in that State to take the oath before receiving letters from the Post Office, has been rescinded, which saves them a great deal of inconvenience and trouble.

The Philadelphia papers of Wednesday announce the death of the Hon. William J. Duane in that city, at the age of eighty-five years. The deceased was Secetary of the Treasury under General Jackson, and resigned his office rather than consent to the removal of the deposits from the United States Bank.

A dispatch from Louisville, Kentucky, announces the indictment by the grand jury of Major General Palmer and Brigadier General Brisbon, for abducting slaves and otherwise interfering with the slave laws of that State.

A dispatch from Fortress Monroe announces the arrival there of the Fifth United States colored troops, on their way from Newbern, North Carolina, to the North, to be mustered out of service. It is gratifying to see this worse than useless arm of the service dispensed with.

General Grant and Sherman both met with railroad accidents, singularly coincident in their occurrence, on Wednesday last. The former, returning from Indianapolis to Cincinnati, was switched off the track, and the car in which he was seated dragged for some distance before the train was stopped; and the latter was thrown from the track about the same time on the Ohio and Mississippi road, between Lawrenceburg and Cincinnati, and the car which he occupied subjected to similar treatment.

The proprietors of The Clarksville (Tennessee) Chronicle have been arrested by the military authorities, and sent to Nashville under guard. The Military satraps did not relish the tone of their editorials.

The New Orleans Picayune says General Beauregard "is now a sedate, quiet citizen and civilian in his native city, who has no idea of leaving his country, and will remain here to meet all the responsibilities and discharge all the duties of a citizen."

Father Siels, a Catholic Priest, has been sent to prison in Franklin County, Missouri, for solemnizing the rites of matrimony without taking the test oath.

The San Francisco Courier says that the Shenandoah was not long since successfully furnished with a ship load of supplies from that city, by a vessel that was quietly cleared for Victoria, and which has not yet turned up at that port.

General Thomas has ordered the release from confinement at Chattanooga, of all the persons charged with resisting United States troops in Cherokee County, Alabama, while searching for Government cattle. The affair has been thoroughly investigated, and this order of the General shows that it has been amicably and honorably settled.

Public Meeting.

The citizens of Talbot County opposed to the Registry Law, without regard to party, are requested to convene in Public Meeting, in Easton, at half-past 10 o'clock, A. M., on Tuesday, the 17th day of October, inst., to express their opinion upon said law.

Distinguished speakers from abroad are expected to be present and address the meeting.

Oct. 3, 1865 MANY CITIZENS.

A Political Weathercock.—One who goes to a printing office (a Democrat at the time,) to learn the printing business, and because the paper advocated Whigism, turns his coat and goes in for that cause. A short time after, Know Nothingism comes along, and the editor joins it; the apprentice (or journeyman, we are not certain which,) finding this new ism getting the ascendancy, adjures Whigism and adopts it. The editor getting rather tired, and Know Nothingism being killed dead by the refusal of its adoption by Virginia, the foreman (for he is such by this time) purchases the establishment and shortly after resumed his Whigism, which he advocated until the riot in Baltimore in April, 1861, when all at once he was a Southern State Rights man, and issued a call through his journal for the people to rise up, arm themselves and defend their homes. Somewhere (either just before or after the riot) he had received the commission as Post Master, but having shown so much sympathy for the Southern cause, he could not conscientiously accept it as it came from an Abolition Cabinet officer, and another was appointed in his place.—But look, in a few short weeks finding the Abolition doctrine going to pay very handsomely to its advocates, in he goes head and heels, and now being abolitionized all over he never rested until he again received the commission which he had once before declined to accept. We really would not be surprised to find his paper advocating the Democratic faith ere long, inasmuch as President Johnson is determined that these principles shall be carried out during his administration. With this we take our leave of the Gazette as we find it is utterly useless to attempt to discuss a political question with it, for it always invariably drags in private and individual affairs, and very often then it is in a strain of coarse and vulgar abuse.

"The Children's Friend."—Mr. William R. Hunter, of North Carolina, the gentleman who so appropriately bears this appellation, has been in Easton for a few days past, lecturing to the "little folks" with a word occasionally to the larger ones, on the "Bible and the Sabbath School" and other topics connected therewith. From the first he has excited a deep interest in the minds of all, and his happy faculty for addressing the minds and hearts of the young render him everywhere deeply interesting to this, his favorite class. His introductory lecture was given at the M. P. Church, on Friday afternoon, when in the course of half an hour he had endeared himself to the whole army of "little ones" of Eastor, and at the same time made quite a favorable impression on the minds of the elder portion of his audience. He continued his lectures on Saturday and Sunday afternoon and evening, alternating from one Church to the other and handling his subject in a manner peculiar to himself, at the same time eloquent and instructive, and highly entertaining. During the whole time he has held the undivided attention of his large audience, especially the children, who never seem to tire. His twofold object of benefitting all the children he meets by sowing seed in youth to germinate in after years, as well as to raise funds to start the destitute schools of the South, alike commend him to the sympathies of the people of Easton. And may all their sympathies be of that substantial turn that will aid him in the noble work he has undertaken. None should fail to hear him; he charges no admittance fee and takes no public collections, but receives donations from any that may choose to aid him in the cause of re-establishing the Sabbath Schools of the South. Such a mission cannot fail to commend itself to the hearts and pockets of a Christian community.

☞ Messrs. Powell & Wright will accept our thanks for the bottle of Washington County Rye Whiskey sent to our office. It is the genuine article and we advise all who wish a pure Whiskey to go to the above firm. It is the only Store in this place where you procure as good.

☞ As we had expected, although contrary to the law which authorized it, the publication of the list of loyal voters has been given to the paper having the smallest circulation. We shall publish the list next week in order that our readers may see the names of those by whom hereafter they are to be controlled.

☞ The following resolutions were unanimously adopted at a meeting of the Democratic State Rights party, held at the Cooper Institute, New York, on yesterday week. The meeting was called for the reason, that a few weeks previous a so-called Democratic Convention held at Albany entirely failed to announce the Democratic principles as entertained by a large portion of the people of New York, and the Democracy of New Jersey, Pennsylvania, Ohio and other States.—We invite the attention of our readers to a perusal of them as they breathe forth the genuine spirit:

Whereas, The Democratrc party, which sprung, into existence under the leadership of Thomas Jefferson, was organized mainly for the purpose of protecting the States from the encroachments of the Federal Government; and whereas, its foundation principles were set forth in the celebrated Virginia and Kentucky Resolutions, defining the relations and rights of the States, and the powers and duties of the Federal Government; and whereas, these resolutions have been reaffirmed by every Democratic Presidential Convention which has assembled in the United States, and especially by the Democratic party, in Convention assembled in Cincinnati, in 1856, declared "that it adopted the principles enunciated in these resolutions, as constituting one of the main foundations of its political creed;" and whereas, this action was reaffirmed at Baltimore, in 1860, both by the Convention that nominated Douglas and also by the Convention that nominated Breckinridge; and whereas, the so-called Democratic Convention ignored these principles, but actually indorsed the overthrow of the well known and admitted rights of the States, and even went to their opponents for candidates for office; therefore,

Resolved, That the Convention at Albany having thus deserted the Democratic party, Democrats are absolved from all obligations to support nominations made in open defiance of their principles, and that we, as State Rights Democrats, refuse to be led into the camp of the Abolition revolutionists, who are now trying to change the nature and character of our Government, and fix forever upon this country their odious rule and principles, but that we are for "the Constitution as it is, and the Union as it was," and against all parties and all men not in favor of it.

Resolved, That we regard the States as the foundation stones of our system of government; that war, in the very nature of things, could not detract from their reserved rights, nor add to the powers of the Federal Government, for that would be to declare that force and not the will of the people was the source of authority in a free government, and hence we hold that executive proclamations, decrees, etc., are unconstitutional, null and void, and we are therefore in favor of an immediate recognition (not reorganization or reconstruction) of all States formerly embraced in the Union, in full fellowship and equality with their sister States, with no right impaired, as the wisest and best policy to secure a permanent peace and reunite the broken bonds of union.

Resolved, That no less essential to the safety and success of our free institutions is the doctrine of White Supremacy, as inculcated by the late Senator Douglas; viz: "That this Government was made on the white basis; by white men, for the benefit of white men and their posterity forever," and that if we would save ourselves from the fate of the mongrel republics south of us, we must stand by this principle to the last extremity, and indignantly frown upon all attempts to include the negro in the ranks of citizenship.

Resolved, That we are instinctively and unalterably attached to a Federal Union of these States founded upon mutual interest, confidence, affection, and the general welfare of each, and we believe that if the Federal Government had been administered upon these principles, as its founders intended, there would have been no war and no bloodshed; and if they are recognized in the future, there will be no civil strife, since all causes for it will be removed. We do not, therefore, agree with the Albany Convention that "the Union has been restored," so long as one portion of the States, larger and more powerful than another portion, lord it over the weaker, treating them as conquered provinces, and denying their people the most sacred rights, viz: freedom of speech, freedom of press, the writ of habeas corpus, trial by jury, free and untrammeled elections, etc.

Resolved, That while we stand ready to support President Johnson in every constitutional measure he may adopt, and that while we regard his tone and temper in many cases as commendable, we cannot indorse him in making his own will, as enforced by military power, superior to "the right of the people of each State to control their own domestic institutions in their own way," and hence his dictation as to what they shall or shall not insert in their constitutions is imperial and autocratic, and directly contrary to the solemn pledge given by Congress to the American people, that the war was solely for the supremacy of the Federal Constitution, and that it should leave the States with their "rights, dignity and equality unimpaired."

Resolved, That the exemption, by the Federal Government, of some four thousand millions of Government bonds from taxation is a bold and daring stride toward establishing a monarchy, by creating an untaxed nobility, who shall live upon the proceeds of labor without contributing their quota to the support of the Government; that we hereby enter our solemn protest against a distinction so invidious, in a government founded upon the theory of equal rights, and we pledge ourselves to vote for no man for public office not in favor of equal taxation.

Resolved, That we earnestly warn the people against the increasing inroads of capital against labor, of the moneyed aristocracy against the farmer and laborer—in all the shapes which it is assuming—vast railroad combinations, exercising a tremendous weight in the political affairs of the country which, as necessity requires, will seize and control the Government to promote and secure their own interest, while the masses will be but tenants at will on their own farms, compelled to pay taxes and furnish revenue—banking institutions and all the forms of growing corporate power, class legislation and special privilege, which, unless arrested and guarded before too late will result in a moneyed aristocracy and the establishment of a caste in this country more odious, oppressive and insufferable than that of the titled nobility of monarchies over the degraded peasants of Europe.

Resolved, That the so-called Democratic Convention at Albany, by its indefiniteness or silence upon nearly all the foregoing subjects, as well as by its arbitrary course in excluding entire delegations of Democrats, without even the courtesy of an investigation, shows that it was not actuated either by a devotion to principle or even by a Democratic spirit of fairness; and that we hereby protest against its course, and would convey the assurance to the Democracy of other States, that it does not represent the views, feelings or principles of the Democracy of the Empire State.

Good Advice.—J. P. Sampson, editor of the Cincinnati Colored Citizen, in an address to the Freedmen's meeting held on Friday week, at Wilmongton, N. C., to appoint delegates to the Freedmen's State Convention, says:

"You should not encourage by indolence a demand for foreign labor. You can get along better with your own white people. They know you. Let no stranger urge you to disrespect your fellow-citizens, protected as they are by the Government. Remember, these military men are to be drawn off, and you are to be governed by the same slaveholding white citizens of North Carolina; and if they will give this right, then stand up for the State. Slavery is forever abolished, but your State rights are to be obtained of the State, and not the Government."

Letter from Gen. Robert E. Lee.

The Petersburg Index publishes the following extract from a private letter received from General Lee a few days ago:

"It should be the object of all to avoid controversy, to allay passion, give free scope to reason and every kindly feeling. By doing this, and encouraging our citizens to engage in the duties of life with all their heart and mind, with a determination not to be turned aside by thoughts of the past or fears of the future, our country will not only be restored in maternal prosperity, but will be advanced in science, in virtue and in religion."

In giving these words, the Index says that they receive conclusive force from the noble example General Lee has set of faith in his own views and obedience to his own convictions of duty. As he never ordered any man to go where he feared to go himself, so he never advises any course that he is not fully prepared to follow.

A Raid on the Fenians in Dublin.

We find the following in the latest English papers:

On Friday evening, September 15th, in Dublin, a large force of police proceeding from the Castle to Parliament street, where they divided into two bodies, one at each end of the street. The detectives then knocked at the door of a paper called the Irish People, an alleged Fenian organ, but were refused admission. The police then broke open the door, took possession of the premises, and arrested twelve or fourteen prisoners; said not to be compositors and conveyed them to the Castle. The police then retained possession of the premises. There is no information as to the cause of the seizure, but there are rumors of concealed arms and documents, with the names of the leaders, but the reports are not generally credited, and the Government was supposed to be acting on information. The police kept the street clear, and there was no disturbance. The Irish People is a weekly journal, and was about to be published that evening.

The Skibbereen Eagle of the 15th instant announces the British fleet of Cape Clear, and some hovering around the coast to the great consternation at first of the coast population, but the people were satisfied on learning that they were the Queen's ships. The Eagle says now that help is at hand in the event of Fenian invasion, those inclined to sympathize with the rebels are rather disheartened.

Doctors Differ.—The Delaware Republican advocates the policy of Sumner and Stevens, which is confiscation, hanging and banishment. The New York Times, Mr. Seward's organ in a leading editorial says:

There are a great many Southerners in this city trying to make arrangements for a resumption of business. As a general thing their conduct is manly, frank and sensible—calculated to win the confidence and respect of every generous and just community. Nine in every ten of them have been utterly ruined by the rebellion. Most of them cast their fortunes into the struggles for a cause which they believed to be right, but which they see and acknowledge to have been fatally and finally defeated. They have lost position, influence, property, children, friends—everything which makes life desirable. Under such circumstances, weak men sink down into adject despair, or drag out the rest of their lives in the safe obscurity of foreign lands. The defeated Southerners meet their calamity in a more manly style.—They show in their defeat, as they did in their struggle—courage, desperate tenacity of purpose, and that high-spirited readiness to meet all the responsibilities of their conduct, which never fails to command the respect of the world.

A venerable missionary, who had struggled long and hard to convert the inhabitants of a very cold country to his teachings and threatenings, at last was relieved by a young man, who had asked the elder's advice as to the course proper for him to pursue. "My son," replied he, "for ten years have I given these people the terror of the law; and I have painted hell in its warmest colors; but the idea has seemed to please them! And going to a warm climate was rather a comfort than otherwise. Now the best thing for you to do is, to give it to 'em cold; make it out fifty degrees colder than it is here, and I guess you'll bring 'em. They can't resist that sir."

☞ Secetary Welles has written to Connecticut that he favors "intelligence, not color, as the qualification for suffrage."

The Horrors of Indigestion.

You complain of your stomach, unfortunate dyspeptic; but ought not your stomach to complain of you? Possibly the pangs you endure are simply the stomach's method of taking revenge upon you for neglecting and abusing it. Perhaps you have never made an effort to improve its condition, but on the other hand are continually cramming it with unwholesome and incongruous food. Have you ever tried HOSTETTER'S STOMACH BITTERS, a proper diet, and regular meals? The Bitters in a week would put your digestive apparatus in perfect order, regulate the flow of bile in accordance with the laws of health, and produce just so much aperient action as would be necessary for your good; and when you were once all right, judicious and regular dieting, with a little of the Tonic now and then, would keep you so. If you have neglected these means of cure, don't blame your stomach for its rebellion. It is merely nature's hint that she wants help. If you neglect it, the next thing may be inflammation, or Scirrhus Cancer, or some other violent and dangerous disase. There is such a thing as being too late in these matters. HOSTETTER'S BITTERS will cure Dyspepsia; but Dyspepsia may engender diseases which defy all restoratives.
