THE FRAUD CONSUMMATED.

SHOVE OF THE CENSOR CLUB.

[Special to the Star.]

BALTIMORE, Feb. 24.—The game is up. Oregon counted for Hayes right in never.

Grant is to leave the White House a few days before the inauguration of his successor, and will be the guest of Mr. Secretary Fish until he leaves Washington for parts unknown.

It is reported that Judge Bradley is very unhappy. We are glad to hear it. It is evidence that he is morally conscious of the great crime he has committed, and the disgrace he has brought upon the Supreme Court of the United States.

Two of our Eastern Shore editors have lately been digging each other under the fifth rib about using bad grammar. We do not see how they are going to settle their dispute, while one appeals to Lindley Murray and the other to Mr. Pickwick's friend, Weller, as models of elegant English. We call for another national returning board to decide between them. Where is Mr. Justice Bradley?

Stokely, Republican, was reelected Mayor of Philadelphia on Tuesday by about 2,774 majority, all of which is said to be fraudulent. Hayes carried Philadelphia in November by over 14,000. What a falling off is this, what a comment try on the Bradley Returning Board fraud. The city of Pittsburg on the same day went democratic. O goody, how it hurts! Pennsylvania will be all right before long.

P. T. Barnum has secured the Louisiana Returning Board for his museum, and is now negotiating with the coming Defacto with a view to securing the Republican part of the Electoral Commission for public exhibition next summer. The two together will constitute a cage of the most wonderful natural curiosities ever exhibited. Twelve bigger rascals could not be found, if h—ll was scraped over with a fine-tooth comb.

Mr. Tilden promptly and positively repudiates the shameless contract by which the executive heads of the two national parties have attempted to shield their affairs from investigation, and gives a flat denial to the imputations attempted to be cast upon him in the Oregon business. We publish his letter to Senator Kernan, that our readers may see that the late canvass in no respect soiled the purity of his garments.

THE ELECTORAL COMMISSION.—After the count of Louisiana for Hayes was completed, the joint convention of the two houses proceeded the count. When Nevada was reached, objection was made on account of the ineligibility of an elector. That was soon disposed of by counting the vote for Hayes. When Oregon was reached, objections were filed, and the case was referred to the commission. The commission reversed its decision in the Louisiana case, took testimony in the Watts-Cronan business, and counted the three votes of Oregon for Hayes. The commission reported to the joint convention on Saturday, and the vote of Oregon was counted for Hayes.

The Defacto elect is said to be busy making up his cabinet, and there is a strong contest going on between the Bull-dozers and the more moderate men of the Republican party for the management of the Defacto's administration. The Bull-Dozers are claiming the best positions as a reward for their blackness and perjury, and it is supposed that they will get all they demand. Bristow's friends are pressing him for one of the first positions, but the Bull-dozers insist that Bristow is a lost planet. The whiskey thieves are also against him, and he has but a small chance.

There is some talk about the Democrats in Congress stopping the count before it is through, so as to prevent the false announcement that Hayes and Wheeler are elected. If they should attempt this, and succeed Mr. Senator Ferry, President of the Senate, will be acting President until a special election can be had. Some people think the country could not afford to undergo another Presidential election so soon, but can it afford to accept a defacto President, with all of its demoralizing consequences? We are not prepared to say which would be the worst. But having accepted the situation, the Democrats ought to stand by it to the end.

Grant issued a military order on Tuesday, prohibiting the South Carolina white militia companies from celebrating the 22nd of February by a public parade. Grant don't like any thing that smacks of the purity of Washington, but glories in being cheek by jowl with such rascals as Chandler, Babcock and McDonald. The militia of South Carolina or any other State of the Union has the expressed constitutional right to bear arms, and parade a pleasure, and it was the meanest kind of petty tyranny in Grant, in issuing his order prohibiting the exercise of the right on the 22nd of February. Thank God, the country will soon be rid of the tyrant and his military orders.

Senator Conkling, it is said, was opposed to the National Returning Board's decision in the Louisiana case, and prepared a speech opposing its acceptance by the Senate; and it is further said that, had he made the speech in opposition, seven other Republican Senators would have gone with him in defeating the fraud, but unfortunately for Mr. Conkling, the Radicals succeeded in ball-dozing him, he failed to attend the convention, and his speech was not delivered. Mr. Conkling has missed a great opportunity—one he will never cease to regret. Had he defeated the great crime of counting Louisiana for Hayes, he would have made himself the idol of the people and won a character for political integrity that would probably have been rewarded by the highest honors of the Republic. He might just as well have gone in and voted with the bull-dozers as to do as he did. By absenting himself from the Senate at the important moment, he permitted the consummation of a wrong which his judgment condemned, and which his presence and influence might have prevented. It is strange that our great men are so short sighted. The Republicans now distrust Senator Conkling, and the Democrats have no respect for him. His future is paralyzed.

COL. DON PIATT REPLIES.—The first of last week there appeared in The Capitol, Col. Don Piatt's paper in Washington, a paper adhesive story at hale respecting the fraudulent counting in of Hayes by the Electoral Commission, and as it was attempted to connect a Democratic member of Congress with the affair, and threats of prosecution were made against the author, Col. Piatt at once published the following card. It will be seen that he stands up to the matter with the courage of a Tarpeian. However, since the appearance of the card the grand jury of the District of Columbia have found a true bill against Col. Piatt for writing and publishing a seditious article. Hoping Mackenzie to triumph on the occasion and put Hayes in right or wrong, let or no let, through fraud and forgery, the Radicals are still clamoring at Washington and threatening for treason against other opposition to their schemes.

SCRIBNER FOR MARCH.

There are about eighty illustrations in the March number of Scribner, twenty-eight of them accompanying M. W. S. Ward's description of "The New York Aquarium." Among the subjects engraved are the Kingfye, the Hole-benders, Sea-Raven, Toad-Fish, Angler, Skate, Shark, Seals, and the late lamented Whale. Much attention is devoted to the circulating and filtering system of the Aquarium which is said to be much superior to those of similar institutions abroad. Other illustrations are "Princeton College" by Rev. Dr. Alexander,—the last of the College series except Oberlin and Smith, the sixth of Clarence Cook's familiar talks on home-furnishing, this month with unique designs and practical suggestions; the concluding part of Gen. McClellan's "Winter on the Nile," with descriptions of an Arab tournament and a dinner with Sheik Achmet; and a popular science discussion of "The Flower Plants" by Mrs. S. B. Herrick, with drawings from nature by the author. There is also a large engraving from a fine portrait of Gilbert Stewart painted by himself this month, accompanying Miss Stewart's reminiscences of her father, entitled "The Youth of Gilbert Stuart," and containing anecdotes of Benjamin West, Sir Joshua Reynolds and others. A single illustration is given with Dr. Holland's "Nicholas Minturn," the motive of which is discovered to lie in the discussion of problems connected with mendicant classes in all ranks of society. Of Mrs. Burnett's serial, "That Lass o' Lowrie's," there is a dramatic installment, and Sammy Craddock continues his readings of "Robinson Crusoe" with the aid of a "Manyela.'—The other fiction of a number consists of the concluding half of 'Farmer Bassett's Romance,' by Sara Holm, the author dropping into poetry; a light, cheerful story, 'Celestial Peas,' by Isabella E. Hopkins, and one in a minor key by James T. McKay, entitled 'Stella Grayland.' Bret Harte responds in SCRIBNER with a poem, 'Of William Francis Bartlett;' Miss Anne Lynch Botta, who has not published for several years, has a noteworthy sonnet, "Harmony," and Mr. Boyesen prints an elegy on A. G. L.' The other verse is by H. H., Charlotte F. Bates and Alice W. Brotherton, Gen. Dix has a short sketch of "Claudi E., one of whose poems he translates in a happy line for line rendition. Two other papers complete the list of 'body articles,' one, a clear, impartial 'Exposition of Life Insurance,' by Julius Wilcox, the other a defense of Chinese immigration by an anonymous writer who seems to be well-informed on the subject.

In "Topics of the Time," Dr. Holland writes of 'Political Training and the Amusements of the Rich;' 'The Old Cabinet has something about 'The Professor of Literature,' 'Tennyson's Harold,' 'Picture Exhibitions,' and 'Art at the Cooper Institute;' and concludes with 'A Song of the City;' in 'Home and Society,' the fifth Letter to a Young Mother deals with the cultivation of literary taste in child ren; 'Culture and Progress' has notices of American English, French and German books; 'The World's Work' (which is widely copied from Nook to month by industrial papers) records some late inventions, and 'Brotherhood' contains verse and pictures in a humorous or pathetic vein.

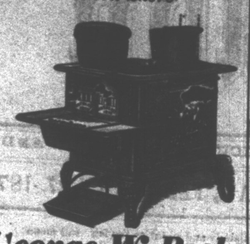
The Oldest Stove House on the Eastern Shore



George W. Beck,

EASTON,
Established in 1846.

Having served a regular apprenticeship at the Tin and Sheet-Iron business in the city of Baltimore, and been in the business all my life, would most respectfully call the attention of the public to the fact, that a practical knowledge of the business enables me to select the very kind of to suit this market. I have endeavored to keep up with the times and am constantly receiving from the best factories in Troy, Albany, New York, Philadelphia, Reading and Baltimore the very latest improved, and most approved COOK STOVES, STOVES, HEATERS, and RANGES, among which are the EXCELSIOR HOT BLAST Cook Stove, the COLUMBIA IMPROVED Cook, the JASPER Cook, the ALL RIGHT Cook, the CHAMPION Cook, the CARROLL Cook and the OLIVE BRANCH Cook. The most of these Stoves are too well known to my customers to need comment, but I guarantee them all to give satisfaction.

Cooking Ranges,

I keep in stock the following Ranges: The SUNSHINE, the WASHINGTON IMPROVED, the BRUNSWICK and the ARGAND. I can furnish these Ranges with single or double ovens. They all have the ILLUMINATED FIRE BOX, the ANTI DUST FLUE, and the ANTI-CLINKER GRATE, now so highly prized by all who use them. The advantages of the anti-clinker grate, are that the ashes and clinkers can be removed while the fire is burning without dumping the grate, and a constant fire kept burning.

FIREPLACE STOVES.

I have been putting up fire place stoves ever since John H. B. Latrobe first invented the Latrobe stove, and having tested nearly all the various patterns that have appeared since that time, most confidently recommend the GOLDEN SUN as the best fireplace stove now in use. It has been five years since I introduced this stove and out of the great number sold, not one has been returned.

THE SPLENDID BASE-BURNER

is a new stove just out, made by Fuller, Warren & Co, Troy, N. Y., for parlors, dining rooms, halls and offices. This stove is the greatest invention of the age. A new grate or fire chamber can be put in this stove when needed without moving or taking the stove to pieces or making any dirt in the room.

A large variety of wood and coal stoves kept in stock and at prices within the reach of all. Stoves delivered and put up anywhere in Talbot or adjoining counties.

Stove Pipe, Stove Castings for Repairs, Cooking Utensils, Wash Boilers, Tin and Sheet Iron Ware kept in stock, and always on hand.

I invite the special attention of housekeepers to the Inodorous Seamless Hollow Ware for Cook Stoves and Ranges. This is something new. In using this ware, the unpleasant odors arising from meats and vegetables when cooking pass into the fire and are consumed.

REPAIRING

all kinds of stoves a specialty. All kinds of Tin, Sheet Iron, Copper and Brass Ware made to order.

Believing it to be to the interest of my customers as well as my own, I give my undivided attention to the STOVE, TIN and SHEET IRON business, knowing that he who aspires to be jack of all trades is likely to be master of none, and where there are too many irons in the fire, some are sure to be burned.

A nice lot of second hand stoves, thoroughly repaired, for sale cheap.

ROOFING, SPOUTING and JOBBING promptly attended to.

Thankful for past favors, I respectfully invite the public to call and examine my stock of stoves, &c, before purchasing elsewhere.
