The Carpet-bag Senator Patterson, has submitted to Gov. Hayes the following plan for the solution of the South Carolina trouble. It is astonishing that this cool calculating villain, who boasted sometime ago that there will five years of good stealing yet left in South Carolina, should propose a plan for settlement of the S Carolina, trouble wholly outside of all law, State and Federal, but it is more astonishing still that Jim Blaine should go to Mr. Hayes, and endorse, approve, and recommend the villainous proposal. The suggestion of this plan to Gov. Hayes by Patterson and Blaine, is the coolest piece of political villainy the greatest insult to the laws of the land which the Radical accomplets have yet ventured on. Can it be possible that these scoundrels do not know that this is a country which claims to be governed by law? We publish the dispatch from the Baltimore Sun on Thursday.

[Special Dispatch to the Baltimore Sun.]

THE DESPERATE RESORT OF THE CARPER BAGGERS—PROPOSED NEW ELECTION IN SOUTH CAROLINA AND LOUISIANA—INTERVIEWS WITH THE PRESIDENT.

THE NEW ELECTION IDEA.

WASHINGTON, March 18.—The last move of the carpet-baggers to save themselves from utter annihilation in South Carolina and Louisiana is to have a new election. Through some means the colored Senator Bruce was induced yesterday in his interviews with Mr. Hayes to sanction this idea, and to-day Mr. Blaine is full of it. He called at the White House and urged the matter on Mr. Hayes. The other day when the South Carolina carpet-baggers were at the White House they suggested the same idea, and Mr. Hayes then requested Senator Patterson to reduce his views on the subject to writing. To-day Mr. Patterson laid before Governor Hayes a lengthy paper embodying his views, and those with whom he acts. The paper recites at length the circumstances following the last State election in South Carolina, and the present unsettled status in that State, and then proposes as a remedy a new election for Governor, State officers and members of the Legislature. It sets forth that while there is no law authorizing a new election, and Mr Hayes cannot order one, it can be done by common consent of both parties. It then proposes the following plan: Let Chamberlaine be recognized as Governor until the new election, the Legislature be convened by him, and members admitted who were declared elected by the returning board, which insures a republican Senate and a democratic House. The Legislature to do nothing more than pass a registration law, and a law for a new election. Chamberlain and Hampton to agree that the registers of voters shall be selected one by each of them, and the umpire by Gen. Ruger, the registration and the election to be under the control of Gen. Ruger, he to take military possession of the State and guarantee a fair election, prohibit parades of the colored militia or of the white rifle clubs. The election officers to be selected equally by Hampton and Chamberlain, the board of State canvassers or returning board to be selected, two by Chamberlain, two by Hampton, and one by Ruger. Chamberlain and Hampton to agree for their respective partisans to keep the peace and abide by the result. When Senator Patterson handed this to Mr. Hayes to-day he said, "I am confident Gov. Chamberlain and the republican party of the State of South Carolina will agree to this proposition. I am sure Gen. Hampton cannot in fairness object, and if this proposition meets your approval I suggest that both Chamberlain and Hampton be invited to come to Washington, the plan be submitted to them here, and Gen. Ruger be directed to maintain the status quo at Columbia during their absence." Mr. Hayes read the paper over carefully and asked, "Will the other side agree to this?" Senator Patterson said, "If you desire them to do so I feel sure they will, or else their protestations of a desire for peace and to do the fair thing are not meant in good faith." Mr. Hayes then said the matter would be carefully considered at the cabinet session to-morrow night, and in the meantime the other side would have to be heard from. He also said that he would like just such a solution of the difficulty in Louisiana, and inquired of Senator Patterson whether he thought the people would agree to it there. Mr. Patterson replied that he did not know, and his interview with Mr. Hayes then terminated. Afterwards Mr. Patterson remarked in conversation that if the democrats refused the proposed adjustment the recognition of Chamberlain must inevitably ensue. He said Ruger is a democrat, but if the democrats are not satisfied with him the republicans are willing for Gen. Sherman to go down to South Carolina and supervise the election.

After Mr. Patterson left the White House Gen. M. C. Butler, of South Carolina, saw Mr. Hayes, who imparted to him the details of the plan submitted by Mr. Patterson. Gen. Butler was not favorably impressed with it, but said to Mr. Hayes that he would communicate with Gov. Wade Hampton and others and let him know the result in a day or two. This new move of the carpet-baggers complicates very materially the situation in both South Carolina and Louisiana. So far as can be learned up to this time it meets with no favor among the conservatives of either State or among democratic Senators. As stated last night both the South Carolina and Louisiana conservatives consider that they had nothing to compromise. They do not see the necessity of plunging their States into the terrible excitement of another election merely to give the carpet-baggers another chance to cheat them, although they have no doubt that they can carry their States by a larger majority than before. Collector Casey said to your correspondent to-night that the democrats would in case of another election in Louisiana increases their majority very much over the figures of last November.

Blaine has got his right name at last. He is now known as the "Cutting Dog of the Administration." The following shows how he came by it. He "cut off" at first in favor of the Carpet-baggers, and signally failed in the Senate. He "cut off" again last week in favor of Patterson's new election project, but the Hayseits refused to follow, and Blaine had to hark back again. What will the cutting dog next cut on?

A "CUTTING DOG" ILLUSTRATION.—The Richmond (Va.) State gives a graphic description of the various kinds of dogs once employed in fox-hunting in Virginia. The most remarkable of these was the "cutting dog, an animal who added to his instinct and his nose a certain reasoning faculty which often rose above instinct and as often fell below it. He got the name of "cutting dog" from his habit of cutting across the field to head the fox, and if he was a good guesser the pack would follow him, confident that he would lead by the shortest road to success. But he would some time or other make a big mistake, turn the pack out, and lead the whole host in grievous disappointment.—Thereafter the pack would no longer follow him; when he gave tongue the other dogs only sniffed, and when he made, as he sometimes did, another good guess, and getting far ahead would lead the pack, he was unsympathetically disregarded still, and never had full fellowship even with the stupidest old-nosed, cautious trailers. The State has in a postscript that Blaine of Maine is a "cutting dog."

NEW HAMPSHIRE ELECTION.

The State election in New Hampshire took place last Tuesday. The Republicans elected their Governor, a large majority of the legislature, and two Congressmen. The Democrats elected one member of Congress, Jones in the district. The republicans were confident of getting all three of the members of Congress. The Republican majority in the State will shrink as last year, about 3500.

A Washington despatch report Gov. Hayes will tell Blaine and Patterson's new election scheme for Louisiana and South Carolina. The Governor says a new election can not be held without an enabling act by Congress, and Congress cannot pass an enabling act without declaring that a government republican in form does not exist in these States, and such a declaration by Congress, he thinks, might invalidate the electoral vote which seemed to insure him. If Hayes gets this idea firmly fixed in his brain, Blaine and Patterson might just as well shut up shop.

Gov. Hayes has appointed Fred Douglass United States Marshal for the District of Columbia. What would old John Scott say were he living, about Fred's going up so high? John used to say he run Fred out of Talbot county for being too intimate with his wife, Fanny. We remember that John left Fanny on Fred Douglas' account, somewhere about 1859. The people of Washington, both white and black, are strongly opposed to Fred's appointment as Marshal of the District, and we are quite sure that a large majority of the people of the country deprecate the appointment as one not fit to be made.

Often a man drives a pair of grays, while he himself is driven by duns.

MR. DIOGENES

This singular man lived in Greece. He was distinguished for his eccentricities, bad manners, and bad disposition. It was his chief business to find fault. For example, he took a lantern one day when the sun was shining brightly and went out to search for an honest man, thereby insinuating that such persons were exceedingly scarce. When Alexander, a distinguished military gentleman, paid him a visit, and inquired what he could do for him he had the impudence to tell him to "get out of his sunshine." To cap the climax of his oddities, he dressed like a beggar and lived in a tub! He was a sour, crabbed, crusty old bachelor. We infer that he had no wife, first because history does not mention her, second, because no woman would take kindly to one of his habits, dress or manners, or aspire to become mistress of his mansion. "There was an old woman who lived in a sloe," it is true, but the woman who could live in a tub, and especially with such a companion, has not been heard from. The misanthropic spirit which possessed this man was doubtless due to disordered digestion and a billiousness, one of the prominent symptoms of which is a morose, fault-finding disposition. The tongue is heavily coated, giving rise to a bad taste, the appetite is not good, and the patient feels dull, sleepy, or dizzy and is apt to be fretful. Unfortunately, Mr. Diogenes lived several centuries before Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Purgative Pellets were invented, a few doses of which would have relieved him of his 'bile' and enabled him to find scores of "honest men" without the aid of his lantern. Under their magic influence, combined with that of the Golden Medical Discovery, to cleanse his blood, he might have been led to take a more cheerful view of life, to exchange his tub for a decent habitation, to 'spruce up' in personal appearance, and at last have taken a wife to mend his clothes and his manners, both of which were in evident need of repairs, and become the happy sire of little Diogeneses who would have handed down to posterity the name, not of a cynic philosopher, but of cheerful, healthy, happy, virtuous men!!

Sale of a Public Road.

NOTICE is hereby given that on Tuesday, March 27th, 1877, at 12 o'clock M., in front of the Court House, in Easton, the Commissioners of Talbot County, will offer at public sale to the lowest responsible bidder, the contract for building a new Public Road in Easton and Trappe Districts, as laid down by John C. Bartlett, P. W. Stewart, Jr., and Wm. A. Pratt, Examiners, and surveyed by Chas. R. Mullikin, beginning at a point on the public road leading from White Marsh Church, to Dover Bridge, at the Southeast corner of Henry Bake's Lot, and running through the lands of Francis Schwaneager, Samuel Rittenhouse, Goldsborough Heirs, Moses Diefenderfer, and others, to the County road leading from Eason to Trappe

The length of the road is about 2½ miles, and its width 30 feet

Ditches must be made and Bridges built wherever necessary to drain the road, and Causeways constructed where needed

It must also be cleared of all stumps, roots and other obstructions. The hills are to be graded, and the dirt thrown into the middle of the road, so that the centre of the road-bed throughout its entire length shall be higher than either side.

All the bridges are to be substantially made of the best heart White Oak lumber, the flooring to be not less than 16 feet long and 3 inches thick—the work to be done in a workmanlike manner.

The Contractor will be required to furnish all the material that may be needed for the job.

A Plat of the Road showing the courses and distances, and the report of the Examiners, containing specifications, &c., are hereunto made a part of this contract, and may be seen at the office of the County Commissioners by applying to the Clerk.

The road must be made before the 1st of June next, and put in complete travelling order according to the terms of the contract and it will not be paid for until it is so completed and accepted by the County Commissioners.

Order of the Board of County Commissioners.

Last Notice to

TAX PAYERS.

Your attention is called to my notice of October last that my books must be closed within one year from the time of their delivery, hence those still in arrears will please remember and thereby save cost as but a very short time now remains before that law will have to be enforced against all delinquents.

JOHN L. HOPKINS, Collector.

Look! Look! Look!

JOHN SATTERFIELD, Tailor, opposite the Paragon House on Dover St, announces to the public that he has just received the

Spring Fashions for 1877,

and is prepared to cut and make all kinds of garments in the LATEST AND MOST FASHIONABLE STYLE, and in the best manner. All work made by him warranted to fit. Only the best of workmen employed. Special attention given to cutting, and all trimmings cut with the same care as if the garment was made in his shop.

Thankful for past favors he invites his friends and the public to call and see the fashions, and have their measures taken for a new suit.

Boys and Youths clothes cut to order. The fashions this year for both Youths and Gentlemen are very handsome.

Cook Stoves; also a beautiful

6-Hole Portable Range, with or without Warming Oven, for either wood or coal. A large variety of

HEATING STOVES,

including the new Silver Light, double illuminating, self-feeding and self-cleaning grate. Also, the celebrated

FAME

Fire-Place Heater

The most Powerful, Durable and Economical Stove made, as conceded by all who have used them. Saves one-third the fuel, and will keep fire from the beginning to the ending of Winter without going out. This Stove is constructed upon an entirely new plan, taking its draft from the top, thereby throwing the heat to the floor, warming the rooms much more effectually than any other Fire-Place Stove.

☞ Don't buy until you have seen and examined this Stove.
