THE NEWS

Russia has postponed for a few days her declaration against Turkey. By the 1st of May fighting may be expected.

Mr. Hayes has ordered the United States soldiers to be withdrawn from the support of the Packard usurpation, and to day is appointed as the time for the evacuation. The Packard concern is rapidly dissolving. The Nicholls legislature now has a constitutional quorum in both branches.

The President's order for the withdrawal of troops from New Orleans has been received throughout the South with great rejoicing.—It sounds the death knell of the Carpet-bagger, who will now pick up his baggage and travel to a colder climate. The blacks as well as the whites, are heartily tired of them.—They have stole, and stole, until there is little left to steal, and most of them will leave the South with well stuffed purses.

The knowing ones say, the Texas and Pacific railroad business is very much mixed up with Mr Hayes's Southern policy, and it is supposed that many of Mr. Hayes's dearest friends are deeply interested in the subsidy. Perhaps Senator Blaine has been left out of the combination, which may account for his friend hostility to Mr. Hayes' southern policy.

He may after all be fighting just as much to save Packard to the Texas and Pacific Railroad Ring, as Blaine is smart, [illegible]

A MORAL SPECTACLE.—Jim Blaine fighting the battles of the plundering carpet baggers against a Republican President trying to repair the wrongs done by his Republican party, followers by doing right himself, is a scene worthy to behold. Blaine is looking out for 1880, and wants the assistance of the Democrats which his stirring speech is to count him in so that it can contribute to put them in 1876. For Mr. Hayes now to break up these rascally combinations, by imparting Democrats and Nicholls, Blaine considers unwarrantable, and has resolved to prolong the agitation of the Presidential election so the Democrats will have to in a doubtful mood, [illegible] and his wrongs taken the moral form, and he even turns up the white of his eyes at the heathen Democrats, for being so back to Mr. Hayes in his treachery to that trio of villains, Wells, Packard, and Chamberlain. It is a good sign, however, that Mr. Hayes will not, like General Grant, consort with such putrified scoundrels. On the contrary, the States would lovingly sleep with negroes, or root in the gutter with pigs, to say nothing about affectionately embracing the carpet-bag regime, provided he could make political capital out of his degradation. If Blaine does make the fight he threatens, the administration will have a desperate man to contend with, but victory over him will give Mr. Hayes a wreath of glory that any man may well be proud of.

THE RUSSIAN-TURKISH WAR.

Unless the Turks attack under at once, and sue for peace, by sending a peace commission to the Emperor of Russia, there will be war between Russia and Turkey, and that speedily. The telegraph informs us that the diplomatic campaign has ended, which implies that the military campaign is about to commence. We do not think the Emperor of Russia wants war, and yet he seems to dictate the terms of peace, so that he may preserve his influence with the Christian subjects of Turkey, and be regarded as their protector, the Porte is determined to resist reforms in her provinces, but wants the credit of their Herculean aid is thwarting that they shall be attributed by her christian subjects to Russian influence. Russia has diplomatized until she has effectually deprived Turkey of her Allies, and now she will strike a deadly blow at Mahommedan power in Europe If in the great struggle the Cross shall drive the Crescent out of Europe, Russia will stand forth among the nations as the great champion of christianity, and her moral influence will be wonderfully enhanced. We do not believe the other great powers will peaceably permit Russia to aggrandize herself by large acquisitions of Turkish territory, should she prove successful in the war, and the result may be the establishment of another great power out of the Turkish principalities, with perhaps the Prince of Montenegro as King, the Prince of Servia, in the late war, having proved himself wholly incompetent. Should the Khedive of Egypt aspire to entire independence, the war will afford him a favorable opportunity to gratify his ambition in this respect. We should think the interests of England would prompt her to favor the independence of the Khedive, and we should not be surprised should the English policy, as the war progresses, take this direction. France is to be neutral; but should Germany come into conflict with Russia about a division of territory, before the question is settled, then France will see her opportunity for vengence, and she will fall on Germany with all her power, and make a desperate effort to recover her lost provinces. Greece wants certain portions of Turkish territory, and she will be kept out of the fight only with great difficulty. Austria covets Bosnia, and she is already mobilizing an army of 100,000 men to take possession as soon as war begins When she once gets her grip on the coveted prize, she will never let go except compelled by force. We do not perceive that Italy has any thing to gain by taking part in the contest, unless she should come in contact with France, and then she might hope to gain the territory of Nice. It is not likely that England will consent to the expulsion of the Turks from Constantinople, and whatever side she takes in the war will win, as she has more money than all the other powers combined, and inexhaustible credit, which is everything in modern warfare. At the present time England lacks great statesmen to direct her policy, and the public sentiment of the British nation on any question is very uncertain. The policy of this country, should a general Eu opean war take place, is to keep out of it, and grow grain and feed, for those engaged in it. This is our mission, and our government should strictly pursue it. Should the price of wheat go up to $2.50 or $3 a bushel, and corn to $1 or $1.25, and the war should last three years, at the end of it the United States will be the richest nation on the face of the earth, and our commerce will again whiten every sea. We do not exult at the misfortunes of other nations, but if their ambition will provoke them to go to war, we should be prepared to take advantage of it, and make all we possibly can out of it. Good crops and good prices is all this country needs to restore universal prosperity.

JOHN O'BRIEN'S CIRCUS.

THE PERFORMANCE IN THIS CITY.

The performances given in this city yesterday by John O'Brien's circus were well attended and gave every satisfaction. The acts were all new, and performed with such accuracy as to elicit the warmest applause. The clowns were original and decorous, the gymnasts faultless, the horses in good trim, and the costumes and everything about the show had that fresh and neat appearance which adds to the comfort of a performance of any kind. A feature of the show is the display of wild animals, which is enough to say that it has been greatly improved here, and somewhere. Mr. O'Brien's show is decidedly a good one and deserves a good patronage at our hands. Mr. O'Brien's show will be again, Mr. Charles E. Dunn, as usual, day and advertisement.—Baltimore Every Sunday (Morning).

Mr. John O'Brien, the well-known Circus Manager, has during the past winter procured an entirely new outfit at his home, near Philadelphia, and his exhibition, which came to Easton, Monday, April 9th, exhibiting both afternoon and evening. The menagerie has been greatly enlarged by the acquisition of many rare and valuable animals, making it equal in size to many of the menageries, gardens under roof, generally abroad. The circus company consists almost entirely of new faces, the participants in the sports of the arena being acknowledged artistes, excelling in their several specialities and engaged for their exceptional excellence in their exhibitions of physical perfection. The ring amusements are thrilling and marvelous, but in no instance exceeding the bounds of propriety. Mr. O'Brien aims to both amuse and instruct. In his museum and menagerie visitors can gate upon unique curiosities and mechanical marvels, gaze at the gambols of untamed wild beasts in their native ferocity, captive in iron-girded ornately decorated dens, lavished with unearthly scriptural paintings, in the highest style of art.

The entree of O'Brien's Six Shows is an event. A gorgeous pageant or mass parade of the entire company, exhibiting in vastness and wealth, and convincing the beholder of the magnitude which it proves to exist in the country. The procession is headed by a military of mounted Knights and ladies, followed by three golden cars bearing therein three full bands, richly uniformed and discoursing martial music. Their coming announced by outriders, heralds, trumpeters and banner bearers. Fifty-three animal cars bring up the rear, while the great baggage train, drawn by two hundred Spanish mules makes its way to the place of exhibition with the great canvass, seats, wardrobe and paraphernalia belonging to the big show. Mr. O'Brien estimates that his risk during the twenty-six weeks summer season is no less than the startling amount of $1,200,000 which he cheerfully puts at stake, relying on the size and merit of his united shows for a profitable return.

A lady who assumes to know how boys ought to be trained, writes as follows: "Oh, mothers! hunt out the soft, tender, genial side of your boy's nature." Mothers often do, with an old shoe.

The Cambria Freeman, in nothing the death of Mrs. Catharine O. Trotter, in Hemlock, Cambria county, says that the good lady, who has no children of her own, raised and educated no less than twenty-one orphans.

Sydney Smith's definition of marriage: "A pair of shears, so joined that they cannot be separated, often moving in opposite directions, yet always pinching any one who comes between them."

"SURVIVAL OF THE FITTEST."

The ingenious boasting proposition by Mr. Dorsey, the sickless impersonator of quinine and bear lard, to wager his liquid in Arkansas against a like amount of nicotine or in fact of the animal species. Every year new remedies are brought before the public, and are soon completely discarded as their sale rapidly decreases. Only those medicines which are best suited to the people's wants survive the first test. If they are tried, and found wanting in the merits which they are claimed to possess, no amount of advertising will make them popular. Of all the remedies ever introduced to the public, none are so popular as Dr. Pierce's Family Medicines. Their sale has steadily increased each year, and wholesale druggists assert that the present demand for them is greater than ever before. If you would patronize medicines scientifically prepared use Dr. Pierce's Family Medicines. Golden Medical Discovery is alterative, or blood-cleansing and an unequaled cough remedy; Pleasant Purgative Pellets, scarcely larger than mustard seeds, constitute an agreeable and reliable physic; Favorite Prescription, a remedy for debilitated females; Extract of Smart-Weed a magical remedy for pain, bowel complaints, and an unequaled liniment for both human and horse-flesh; while his Dr. Sage's Catarrh Remedy is known the world over as the great specific for Catarrh and "Cold in the Head" ever given to the public. They are sold by druggists.

WORKMEN.—Not half at work, but a diseased Liver is often the cause of dyspepsia or temper, vindictiveness, and consequent stringtor, when the spleen is affected, the heart is clogged in its better impulses, for want of action to carry off the bile.

"I have used Simmons' Liver Regulator, not only once but often, and can confidently assert it has done me more good than any other medicine I have ever used. I think it is the greatest medicine for diseased Liver made in the world. Many of my neighbors have used it, and all will say as much if not more "JOHN J. ALLEN, Bibb county, Ga."

LATE COLLECTOR'S SALE OF REAL ESTATE FOR TAXES.

COLLECTOR'S OFFICE,
Easton, April 12, 1877.

BY virtue of authority contained in the Code of Public General Laws of the State of Maryland, and my office as Collector of the County and State Taxes for Talbot county, and the laws for the enforcement of the collection of the same, I have seized and taken in execution the following pieces of property, situated in St. Michaels District, Talbot county, to pay and satisfy the State and County taxes due and unpaid thereon, interest, costs and expenses, namely; a lot of 30½ acres of land, situate in Broad Creek Neck, assessed to Margaret Edgar, bounded on the north by the lands of Joshua Edgar's heirs, on the east by a branch of Broad Creek, on the south by Mrs. Valliant's lands, on the west by lands belonging to James H. Sutton and the heirs of Skinner Grace. Taxes due for 1871 and 1872 $0.32.

NOTICE is hereby given to the owner or owners, that I will expose the same at public auction in front of the Court House, in the town of Easton, on between the hours of 10 o'clock A. M. and 5 o'clock P. M. of said day, to the highest bidder for cash, to satisfy the taxes due, interest, costs and expenses.

THE TERMS OF SALE ARE, that the purchaser shall pay to the Collector on the day of sale the entire amount of purchase money, otherwise the Collector will resell at the risk and cost of the first purchaser.

The right of redemption extends to within the period of twelve calendar months from the day of sale, by paying to the purchaser the amount of the purchase money and all taxes assessed on said property and paid by said purchaser since said sale, and prior to such redemption, and all costs and expenses properly incurred in procuring the ratification of said sale by the Honorable Judges of the Circuit Court of Talbot County, having jurisdiction in the premises, together with the interest on all said sums at the rate of fifteen per cent per annum from the date of payment to the date of redemption, as provided for in Section 55, Chapter 482, Public General Laws of the State of Maryland approved April 11th, 1874.
