Congress he labored night and day for the victory of the United States, and before and during the war and since the Armistice has always stood for beneficial legislation for the veterans, not only of the world war but the Civil and Spanish Wars. The railroad brotherhoods, too, consider him their friend. He has never favored government ownership of railroads.

In short Zihlman is as well qualified in every way to serve as secretary of labor as any member of either House or Senate, or any civilian for that matter. If Zihlman is appointed labor will be satisfied. Mr. Harding cannot afford to ignore labor in the new Cabinet.

There is another thing that is in Zihlman's favor for a Cabinet post. That is Maryland, one of the normally Democratic Southern States, went heavily Republican in the last November elections. The South, say many congressmen and political leaders, should, in view of this fact, be recognized by at least one Cabinet post in the Harding Administration. If such recognization is given it is probable that the Republicans will be able to make further inroads in the Democratic South four years hence.

50,000 HOMELESS CHILDREN

There are 50,000 homeless children in Poland today who must be fed promptly, or let starve. There are no funds to buy food for them These 50,000 are in addition to the half million Polish children already being cared for through various relief agencies. According to conservative estimates made by the Polish Government, the number of children in this country actually needing food at the present moment is nearer a million and a half than half a million.

BROTHERS FROZEN TO DEATH IN RIVER

George Shank, aged 32 years, of Port Deposit, Md., and his brother, Will Shank, of Mifflin county, Pa., aged 25 years, were frozen to death on Christmas day on Stump's Island, in the Susquehanna river, near Perryville, Md. The two men started in the morning to hunt ducks, in a small flat-bottomed boat. Will's body was found in a standing position frozen in the water, which, with the incoming tide, was covering the island. George's body was crumpled in a heap on the ground a short distance from that of Will. He was apparently going to his brother's aid. Their boat was gone, and the men who found them stated that George had evidently been trying to signal people on shore when he was overcome. When the men did not return to George's home for dinner, the family became alarmed and a search was instituted. The men were gunning in violation of the law, which in Cecil county, Md., prohibits gunning on Christmas day. Will Shank, whose home is in Mifflin county, was spending the holidays at his brother's home. Coroner Scolten, Elkton, Md., was notified and viewed the bodies. George Shank is survived by his wife and four small children.

Deep consideration of the financial situation is now being given by many college students who have exceeded their allowace.
