

Which Barn is Yours Like?

ARE you taking the long chance of your barn being struck by lightning, your stock or family killed, your barn and equipment destroyed?

If your barn is not properly rodded, you are taking an awful and unnecessary risk. Most of the barns that burn are set afire by lightning. Insurance and Government statistics show that a barn properly rodded cannot be burned by lightning.

Don't be influenced by mere opinion about lightning. The savings of a life time may be destroyed in a flash. Play safe and install Miller Rods at once. Good intentions can't protect you. Act now. See about

A Letter To The Public

Westminster, Md., February 28, 1921

Good Morning, Neighbor!

How about repair parts for your implement?

Soon you will want plows, harrows, etc., for field work. We consider this as an important part of our service to you for we carry in stock many dollars worth of these small parts waiting your needs, but it may happen that the part you want is the one we must obtain from the factory.

All over the United States the implement dealers will make a special effort the week of February 28, 1921, to obtain repair part orders, thus showing the farmer their interest in keeping in best possible repair the implements on the farm.

Your co-operation will make it possible for both of us to be happy.

If you get stuck and want help, call on us and we will send a man to help you get the right parts.

As merchants we can say that every indication points to a good demand for 1921 farm products, but we know that you will want to hold your expense down this year and so by repairing machines when possible you will save money, and we will feel that we have properly served you.

We have bought and stocked new machines for those who must have them, and we have confidence that 1921 will be a year of satisfaction to both of us.

Tell us your troubles, we want to help you.

Yours very truly,

THE FARM POWER CO.

MANCHESTER

Death of Chas. H. Everhart

A letter here from George P. Everhart, of Shrewsbury, Pa., informs us that his brother, Charles H. Everhart, died at 7:30 A. M. Sunday, in his 76th year. He was a great sufferer for several years from kidney trouble that had but litle relief after a period of treatment at the hospital. He lay for 60 hours in an unconscious state ere the end came in his 76th year. He was born here at the old homestead on North Main street. Was one of our boys growing to manhood and for a number of years had different avocations, among which was the carrier of the mail and express to and from Greenmount for some years that made him widely known by the traveling public. Being small of stature and light of weight he manifested a wonderful endurance in the handling the carrier business. It was thought that he would be buried here but his death, coming at a time when the roads are at their worst and, at some places on the route impassable, but the services were held on Tuesday afternoon in the home of his brother George. His remains were laid to rest in the cemetery of the above place. He is survived by his widow a daughter of the late Samuel Lilly; two brothers, Dr. Oliver Everhart, of Hanover, Pa.; and George P., of Shrewsbury; one sister, Miss Addie V. Everhart, in the Shrewsbury home.

Mrs. Edward Oursler on South Main street was descending a stairway in her home the supposition is she thought she was on the lower step next to the floor but it was the second from the floor which over stepped which caused her to fall headlong into the room. She was made comfortable and the doctor called who found her badly bruised and suffering a bad shock to her system that put her to bed. At this writing she is doing well, considering that she is nearing her 84th mile stone.

The Misses Carrie and Edna LaMotte invited the members of the Sewing Circle to meet at their home on Saturday evening at an early hour to enjoy a moving picture party. All being promptly on time the line was formed and the march begun to the parlor on York street where they enjoyed a fine picture, after which the the party was taken back to their home to enjoy a social period, during which the hostesses served fine refreshments which were much enjoyed among the best of cheer and merriment.

Mr. J. B. Ranck, principal of the Manchester schools, was a unit in the graduating class of the George Washington University of Washington D. C. on February 22nd, the hundreth anniversary of the school which has its commencement on the above date. Being a guest at the Roslin the hostess Miss Fannie G. Ross gave a reception in honor of his graduation and had a number of her lady and gentlemen friends at the home to-extend their congratulation and enjoy a good social evening on the 24th. Later everything being in readiness an invitation to the dining room was given to which all responded where they found the large table in fine decoration in colors of George Washington with place cards and favors of red and white roses. All being seated hot rolls, chicken patties, peas, salad, pickles and hot coffee were served, followed by ice cream and cake. Those of the company were Mr. J. B. Lauck, Mr. and Mrs. H. S. Musselman, Mr. and Mrs. Robert M. Shower, Mr. and Mrs. H. T. J LaMotte, Mr. and Mrs. E. W. Gregory, Madames M. E. Gettier, John H. Staub, Wm. H. Shower, Misses Jessie Bird, Emma Cox, Carrie LaMotte, Cecelia Shower, Emma Trump, Fannie Shower and Mr. George S. Motter. By pulling the place card that was fastened to a white ribbon each person drew out a diploma which was hid in the decorations which each one read for the benefit of all.

On Monday evening 21st the members of Carroll Encampment No. 17 I. O. O. F. in regular session, attended to routine business and closed in regular form and were ready to leave when they were held up by Past Chief Patriarch William A. Burgoon, who invited them to his home on South Main street. All fell in line and marched to the home, where the hostess gave them a warm welcome and saw that all were made comfortable, when it was discovered that Mr. B. was passing his 49th mile stone. After congratulations and a merry period, refreshments were served and a social time enjoyed.
