DEMOCRATIC COUNTY MEETINGS.

The Democratic and Charles Valley Voters of Talbot county are requested to meet in Easton on Tuesday next, inst., in County Convention, to nominate three delegates to the State Convention, to be held in Baltimore city, on the 19th, to nominate a candidate for Comptroller.

[Signed] RICHARD LLOYD.
JNO. HARRISON,
State Central Committee.

The Working men of Baltimore have nominated Adam Thompson, an Old Tom Jackson, for mayor. He is a pretty good citizen, and a great improvement over Mayor Grinder, who will now subside into a back seat as an ex-mayor.

THE DEMOCRATIC CONVENTION.

The Democratic State Executive Committee met in Baltimore on Wednesday, and selected Thursday, September 27th, as the time for the meeting of the Democratic State convention, to nominate a candidate for Comptroller.

DEATH OF THIERS.

The death of M. Thiers, the eminent French statesman, is announced. He died the most of last week, aged 80 years. He has been prominent in French politics for half a century, and was, doubtless the greatest and wisest man in France, if not in Europe. He was eminent in politics, law, science, military, literature and art. He had explored and mastered every branch of human knowledge. He stood first among French Authors, and French Statesmen. He was the leader of the Republicans, and the Republican candidate to succeed Marshal McMahon, in the French Presidency. His death at this time will be very embarrassing to the Republican cause in France. Who his mantle will fall upon it is impossible to say. All France mourns his death, for, without him, the French people will be almost like a family of orphans. For sometime he has been the representative of peace on the Continent, and his death will be deplored in Germany and Italy, almost as much as it is in France.

THE ELECTORAL COMMISSION.

Sometime ago the New York Sun, which is always ahead of its New York contemporaries in publishing important political news, stated that after the argument in the Florida case was concluded before the Electoral Commission, Justice Bradley read to Justice Field and Justice Clifford his opinion of the case concluding that the vote of Florida should be cast for the Tilden electors; that during the night, Justice Bradley's house in Washington was besieged by influential Republicans; that when the commission opened the next day, Judge Bradley delivered the identical same argument to the commission, except that he concluded by giving the vote of Florida to the Hayes electors. The thing was so extraordinary that the Sun concluded that Justice Bradley was bulldozed by the Republicans that night after he parted with Justice Fields.

Since the publication of the Sun's article, the reporters of the San Francisco papers have interviewed Justice Fields on the subject, and the only response they could get from him was, that Judge Bradley did not "read" his argument to him at the time alluded to; and the inference is, that the only important error in the Sun's article was, in stating that the argument was "read," whereas, it was delivered verbally, and written out subsequently. We think with the Sun, that the matter is of sufficient importance to demand a congressional investigation. If Justice Bradley is a man who can be influenced by outsiders to change his judicial opinions after they have been formed and expressed, for party purposes, he is not fit to occupy a position on the Supreme bench. Judge Bradley must have had a very strong pressure brought to bear on him that eventful night, for the Sun places the number of coaches that halted before his door at seventeen. Justice Fields owes it to the country to tell all he knows about the matter.

"L'homme qui rit."—The man who laughs is a happy man, and no man can be happy with his blood loaded with impurities. The remedy which all can depend upon for every vitiated condition of the blood is Dr. Bull's Blood Mixture.

The Conflict.

The most prominent characteristics of life is its uncertainty; the conflict between the life and death principle begins with birth and terminates with a victory for death; yet every one sincerely desires the issue to be as far removed as possible, and when threatened with disease employs such aids and measures for its removal as the common experience of mankind has proven valuable and reliable. Rheumatism, Neuralgia, Lumbago, Sciatica, and very many other diseases, dangerous in their tendency, readily yield to treatment with Keller's Roman Liniment, everywhere acknowledged as the best external application in the world.

[From the Baltimore Sun.]

The Democratic Party of Maryland—meeting of the State Central Committee.

Pursuant to call of the chairman the democratic State central committee met in Baltimore at the Maryland Institute at 11 o'clock yesterday morning with closed doors, Hon. Joshua Vansant presiding; Wm. H. Vanderford of Carroll county, temporary secretary, in place of Mr. Jas. A. L. McClure, detained by sickness. The following resolutions, submitted by F. Dorsey Herbert, of Washington county, were adopted:

Resolved, That the State convention of the democratic party be held in the city of Baltimore on Thursday, September 27, at 12 M., for the purpose of nominating a candidate for the office of comptroller of the treasury.

Resolved, That the members of the State central committee for the several counties and the legislative districts of the city of Baltimore be requested to designate the time and place for holding primary meetings, county and legislative district conventions, except such counties as have selected delegates to said convention, or have already called their conventions; and that each county and legislative district shall be entitled to the same representation in the said convention as the said counties and legislative districts are entitled to in both branches of the State Legislature.

The California Election—Success of the Democrats.

SAN FRANCISCO, Cal., Sept. 6.—The election returns are still incomplete, but enough is known to render it certain that the democrats will have a majority in the Legislature on joint ballot and gain a United States Senator in the place of Edgy Sargeant.

From our New York Correspondent.

(Expressly reported for the EASTON STAR.)

Alphonse Thiers the Republican ex-President of France; E. S. Sheridan, the comedian; Brigham Young, the prophet; Alvin Adams, the founder of the Express Company, and Garrison, the great firmament of literature, have gone. One by one the luminous stars of war and politics fade away, and nothing remains to perpetuate the memory of their former greatness, except the deeds of good or evil through which they claimed the admiration or condemnation of the world. To review the life of Thiers would be to write a complete history of France during his life-time, suffice it to say that beginning his career as a poor man in a country where [illegible] was almost a crime, and ended it a rich man, outlived and overcame the prejudice of monarchical aristocracy, was exiled in 1830 by Louis Philippe, who succeeded to the throne, subjugated the bloody riots of the Communists and finally attained through industry and perseverance (not through the machinations of returning boards or Electoral Commissions) the highest gift from the hands of a grateful people. His domestic life was very happy, and many occasions of the kind heart and generous impulses of the great statesman are on record, which will certainly be seriously felt in his political party, and whoever may be nominated for President, can only shine by the former greatness of one who was beloved by all the people, and whose death is a great loss to the world.

Not so is the death of Brigham Young, for it foreshadows the downfall of polygamy, the last relic of barbarism which has so long darkened the pages of our history, it might be called mormonism, why such an institution was allowed to have a foothold in civilized America, in direct opposition to all moral and religious laws and only in accordance with fraudulent revelations pretended by a despotic and avaricious villain can only be answered by Republican administrations tramping with vices tantamount to polygamy. We have seen widows, orphans and children robbed of from one to five million dollars, and there is the result of a life of 70 years, of which thirty were wasted in committing or conniving at the most heinous crime and merciless extortions. His whole life was a fraud and even his death, defrauded the just claims of the kingdom of God.

"Time waits for no man." He lives after them, the good is oft interred with their bones" so have I heard Wm. S. Davenport say, and now how truthfully could that beautiful oration be proclaimed over his earthly remains! Those who have heard him plead will never forget the earnestness, nor fail to appreciate the merits of one of the last members of the old school.

Nor even City the avenging angel has not spared any doomed by his decree, besides the death of Alvin Adams & Garibaldi we have had a tragedy, as well as the loss of perhaps one hundred lives in a terrible conflagration destroying a whole block of factories and tenement houses. The murder of John Mesmit by his brother-in-law, in the presence of a woman who had been the wife of one, and lived as the mistress of the other, will become one of the celebrated criminal cases in the annals of emotional insanity—the great loss of life and property in the fire was augmented by the scarcity of water in the defective hydrants; no doubt as usual the verdict of the coroner's jury will be "no body to blame."

It is said to think that the beautiful month of September through whose intervention we bid farewell to burning Summer and prepare for freezing winter, should bring with her so many misfortunes—but she has also brought us pleasures, and charitably inaugurated the oyster season.

Our theatres, schools, stores and churches have all resumed their usual appearance of activity, and among the thousands we meet you can scarcely distinguish the millionaire who cooled himself at the Grand Union Hotel at Saratoga (of course if he is a good christian) from the dashing clerk, who spent $5 out of a salary of $8 per week to take his darling carriage riding through Mosquito town, that fact is we are too indifferent here; for instance our royal thief Tweed is imprisoned next to a common thief, some say this is right and that one thief is no better than the other, but I say no, because if thieves are all alike and no distinctions made in their treatment, then why is it that the officers and trustees of defunct banks and insurance companies are at home enjoying the luxuries of their plunders while petit larceny thieves are properly punished. This is a conundrum and the editor of the "Star" promises a chromo for the first right answer. The visiting Governors have been among us and well introduced to our City Fathers, "a thing of beauty is a joy forever"—our "Fathers" are beautiful—rascals.

OBITUARY.

Fell asleep in Jesus, on the 3rd of September, at the residence of her son-in-law G. W. W. Haddaway, Mrs. Julia Shuck, widow of the late Adam Shuck, of Baltimore, Md., in the 77th year of her age. For many weary months this dear old lady was a sufferer; but she bore her afflictions with the patience of a true christian, and was never known to murmur or complain. To those who loved her, it was a heavy sorrow to have her pass away from their sight, never more to meet again on earth; but they have the comfort of knowing that she is now forever free from pain and enjoying the endless rest of the children of God. May those she left behind try to meet her in heaven.

Thou art gone to the grave,
But we will not deplore thee,
Where God was thy ransom,
Thy guardian and guide;
He gave thee, he took thee,
And he will restore thee,
And death has no sting,
For the Savior hath died.

The most concentrated, universal and durable fertilizer ever offered to the farmer—combining all the stimulating qualities of Peruvian Guano, and the ever durable fertilizing properties of Bones. In fine dry powder, prepared expressly for drilling.

After nineteen years experience by the Farmers of Md. and Va. in the use of "Excelsior," it is their unanimous opinion that an application of 100 pounds of "Excelsior" is equal to from 200 to 300 pounds of any other fertilizer or guano, and therefore fully 100 per cent. cheaper.

In presenting to the Farmers the present season

PATAPSCO GUANO

And Patapsco Guano Mixture,

I have the advantage of practical personal experience and the testimony of all my friends throughout Southern Talbot. I have used these without hesitation, having used nearly all the high grade and high priced manures, I find these mentioned above have paid me best, [illegible] which lower in price, lower than the other brands and of uniform quality and fine drilling condition.

The record made by these Guanos will speak for itself. I feel confident from the results with the Guano last year, that the reputation of Patapsco and Guano Mixture in this locality, and knowing the Company as well as I do, I can guarantee that the same standard will be maintained.

JOHN K. CAULK.

The Proof!

Trappe, July, 1877.

John K. Caulk:—I used Patapsco Guano Mixture and Guanos side by side; my yield is the best for years, and although the Peruvian cost so much more, the Guano Mixture did me quite as much good. The yield was about 30 bushels per acre. W. J. MARVEL.

Trappe, July, 1877.

John K. Caulk:—I used Turner's Excelsior and Patapsco Guano Mixture; upon thrashing if there was any difference in yield, I could not detect it, one doing quite as well as the other. Both used in equal quantities.

THOS. A. LEONARD.

John K. Caulk:—The Guano Mixture purchased of you paid me handsomely. It is a first-class manure. W. H. PARROTT.

Trappe, July, 1877.

John K. Caulk:—I used Patapsco Guano Mixture broadcast, and my yield was 16 bushels for one seeded. JAS. R. LEONARD.

Trappe, July, 1877.

John K. Caulk:—Patapsco Guano Mixture is decidedly the best manure I have ever used. With an application of 300 pounds per acre, I have made the best crop of wheat ever made on the land, and the grass is magnificent.

E. W. NORRIS.

Trappe, July, 1877.

John K. Caulk:—I used Patapsco Guano Mixture, and am satisfied that it is as good, to say the least, as any I have ever used; upon fain orchard land I obtained 15 bushels for one seeded. My grass, where I used Guano Mixture, is far ahead of any I have ever seen, and the yield of fodder is large for the character of land. SOLOMON TULLIKIN.

Trappe, July, 1877.

John K. Caulk:—I used Patapsco Guano Mixture upon corn land, and have never made so much wheat upon the same land. It threshed out about 20 bushels to the acre.

R. S. ROSS.

McDanieltown, July, 1877.

Dear Sir:—I used the Patapsco Guano Mixture on my crop of wheat last fall. My crop was about 23 bushels per acre, on corn land, the land being thin having just raised my success partly to the use of the Keller. I attribute from it a very large crop of corn. I attribute my success partly to the use of the Keller drill, though in seeding my fertilizer, at the rate of 200 pounds per acre. I think it paid at least 300 per cent. on money invested in it.

WM. S. LOWE.

Wittman's, July, 1877.

I used Patapsco Guano, 200 lbs per acre, and my yield is 650 bushels, from 43 seeded. I do not hesitate to say that this is the best fertilizer I have ever used, as the largest yield obtained from the same land for many years was 425 bushels. JAS. T. WRIGHTSON.

Wittman's, July, 1877.

Dear Sir:—I used both Patapsco Guano and Patapsco Guano Mixture. I could see no difference where they were used. The yield was a little over 30 bushels to the acre. JAS. T. WRIGHTSON.

I put my wheat in with the drill about the middle of October, ground very dry, and so much so, it was impossible to properly prepare it; I used both Patapsco and Patapsco Grange Mixture, and am not prepared to say which did the most good, both doing so well; from 34 acres of fallow, (using 160 lbs Patapsco per acre,) I got 900 bushels of wheat, and think the army worm cut it short about 100 bushels. From 35 acres of corn land, using Patapsco and Grange Mixture side by side, I obtained 800 bushels, or about 26½ bushels per acre from fallow, and 22½ bushels from corn land, the best yield I have had on this land, and I do not hesitate to repeat my former endorsement of these manures, as they are first-class in every particular. WM. L. WRIGHTSON.

July, 1877.

Dear Sir:—I used last fall upon my wheat, Patapsco and Patapsco Grange Mixture, I think the Patapsco the best I ever used, and believe the Grange equally as good in proportion to price. I have used Moro Phillips, Rhode's, Turner's Excelsior, and many others. JAMES SETH, M. D.

St. Michaels, July, 1877.

Dear Sir:—I used Patapsco and Patapsco Grange Mixture, applying 175 lbs on my best land, and 200 on thin land, per acre, in the drill. My yield was 25 bushels per acre, of excellent quality. J. E. McDANIEL.

Bay Hundred, July, 1877.

Dear Sir:—I used Patapsco Guano on my wheat last fall, and am satisfied the fertilizer paid me handsomely. I have thrashed, and the fertilized wheat yielded 30 per cent. more than where none was used. Actual measurement. JAMES S. DUNCAN.
